I Zapotecan Palaces of Mitla

(Mühlentfordt, Eduard August Emil). Süd Mexicanische Alterthümer. Most of them are signed by E. A. E. Mühlentfordt, some of them are dated 1829-1831-1834. 25 sheets with pen-and ink and wash colour drawings with details of structures, archeological remains and wall paintings. Various sizes: From 200 x 300 mm to 470 x 600 mm.

€ 72000.-

Gilt title on front cover: 'Süd Mexicanische Alterthümer'. Loosely contained in cont. green half-leather port folio, gilt title to front cover. Imperial-folio. Extremities slightly worn. Spine rubbed. Provenance: Royal House of Hanover. These drawings are similar, but not identical with a set of 21 drawings „Atlas of the Zapotecan palaces of Mitla“ which is part of the holdings of the Biblioteca Nacional de Antropología e Historia, Mexico. (Fondo reservado, clasificación Z-5-39). In 1984 Juan A. Ortega y Medina and Jesus Monjaras Ruiz (editors) published a facsimile edition of these drawings under the title, E.A.E. Mühlentfordt. Los Palacios de los Zapotecos en Mitla'. Eduard Seler (1849-1922) famous professor of Latin American studies in Berlin knew this set of drawings and spoke highly of it as one of the finest studies depicting archeological remains in Mitla he had ever seen. Our set on Whatman paper with water marks dating from 1836 to 1840.

43 Collection of Odawa Crafts

Pitzer, Martin. Verzeichniß der Gegenstände und Arbeiten eines Indianer-Stammes im nördlichsten Amerika nebst einer Charakteristik desselben. München, J. G. Weiß, 1854. € 1600.—

36, (2) pp. Self-wrappers, with green paper backstrip as issued. Cf. ÖBL XII, p. 108; not in Sabin and Murray, Museums. First and only edition. A rare account of an Austrian painter's experiences among the Odawa (Ojibwa) Indians in Michigan. Includes his description of the collection of Odawa crafts he made, plus a list of more than 50 items, with names in Ojibwa and German and many with detailed comments. Most of the pieces are of wood, birchbark and quillwork, including marvelous altar pieces for the church at Cross Village in 1846. "One of the earliest and most splendid collections of nineteenth-century Great Lake quillwork on bark is today in the Museum für Völkerkunde, Vienna. ... The core of the collection which includes a wide range of other Odawa and Menomini objects, was assembled by Martin Pitzer, an Austrian church painter who was attached to the Cross Village mission from 1850 to 1853. In 1854 Pitzer toured a collection of primarily Odawa objects around Austria to raise money for the establishment of mission schools among the Odawa. ... The Vienna collection of mid-nineteenth-century Great Lake quillwork displays an extraordinary variety of forms and genres ranging from traditional rogan shapes used for maple sugar to different styles of covered containers, ladies' handbags, fan handles, and needlework accessories, some of which were made by neighboring Menomini" (Ruth B. Phillips: Trading Identities. The souvenir in native North American art from the Northeast, 1700-1900. University of Washington Press 1998; pp. 179-182). Only three copies of this account found in American libraries on OCLC.

I. Laurentius, Th.; J. W. Niemeijer und G. Ploos van Amstel: Cornelis Ploos van Amstel 1726-1798 Kunstverzamelaar en prentuitgever. Assen, 1980. For Ploos van Amstel (1726-1798). With all 18 prints made by himself in his newly developed techniques. Each print with his stamp on back and handwritten annotations. "It is clear from all this that after 1770 Ploos confined himself to initiating and organizing the work and made no more prints himself. ... In the first five years of the undertaking more coloured prints were published than black and white, but after 1770 interest in them flagged and the last was published 1775. ... We know from Ploos' own records that 350 impressions were made of each print. ... many of which were gifts or presentation copies, the latter always bearing inscriptions in his own hand on the back" (Warde in C. Ploos van Amstel pp. 323-333-334 and Laurentius, Catalogus der Hoofdprenten No- 1-18).

II. Thieme-B. XXV, S. 509. For Cornelis van Noorde (1731-1795). With the famous engraving of Jan van Eyck's "Die heilige Barbara" with pen and ink frame and cont. handwritten caption "Joh. Enschede, Harlemensis, Possessor hujus picturae originalis, excudit 1769. Corn. van Noorde, Harlemensis sculpsit ex originali 1769". This print goes together with the letterpress item by Enschede.

III. Johannes Jacobus Bylaert (1734-1809). "Er erfand eine Crayon-Manier, die von der von Ploos van Amstel und von Cootwyk verschieden ist und über die er 1772 in Leiden ein Buch publizierte" (Thieme-B. V, 314). All prints by van Noorde and Bylaert with manuscript captions on back naming artist, subject and date of the print.

IV. William Baillie (1723-192), Art dealer and artist amateur "Von 1760-1779 fertigte er Jahr für Jahr einige Werke in Ätz-, Kreide-, Tusch-, Schab- und Farbenmanier ..." (Thieme-B. II, 369). An interesting compilation of prints in the most advanced graphique techniques, partly invented or improved by the artists themselves for reproducing paintings as similar to the original as possible.

46 Colourful Designs for Town and Country Houses

Isabey, Léon. Villas, maisons de ville et de campagne composées sur les motifs des habitations de Paris moderne dans les styles des XVIe, XVIIe, XVIIIe & XIXe siècles et sur un choix des maisons les plus remarquables de l'étranger. Paris, librairie d'architecture et d'art A. Levy 1867.

Eine Collection curieuseur Vorstellungen, in Illuminationen und Feuer-Wercken so in denen Jahren 1724 biß 1728 inclusivè, bey Gelegenheit einiger Publiquen Festins und Rejouissances in Hamburg und mehrentheils auf dem Schau-Platze daselbst, unter der Direction und von der Invention Thomas Lediards ... sind vorgestellt worden; In sechszehn grossen Kupfer-Platen sauber gestochen und auff das accurateste abgebildet; Nebst derselben besondern, vollkommenen und ausführlichen Beschreibungen: In welchen etliche Hundert dabey vorgestellte Sinn-Bilder, nebst dazu gehörigen Lateinischen und in Teutschen Versen explicirten, emblematischen und andern Inscriptionibus und Titeln enthalten. Hamburg, Stromer 1730.

Engraved portrait of Lediard by Fritzsch framed by ornate allegorical vignettes, 45 unnumb. ll., title printed in red and black, several woodcut head- and tail-pieces, 18 (of which 17 large folding) engraved plates by Fritzsch, Böcklin, Krügnier and Brühl after Lediard. Cont. brocade paper wrappers. Folio. Front wrapper with restored corner. Wrappers mounted. Covers a bit wavy. Not in Philip. Lotz, Feuerwerk p. 95. Berlin catalogue 2889. Vinet 726. Cf. Watanabe-O'Kelly, Festivals and ceremonies 2842 (only two out of 10 parts). First and only edition of this scarce festival and firework book. Contains 10 parts, each dedicated to a foreign ruler among others King Georg I. of Great Britain, King Louis XV of France, Czar Peter II. of Russia. Illustrations with firework displays and stage settings. "Thomas Lediard, Sekretär des englischen Gesandten in Hamburg, der auch von 1722-1728 Direktor des dortigen Opernhauses war, schaltete bei Gelegenheit fürstlicher Geburtstage und anderer Feiern in Opern und Serenaden Zwischenszenen mit zentralperspektivischen Dekorationen in festlicher Beleuchtung ein. Meist waren auf ihnen auch Ansichten aus dem Lande des gefeierten Fürsten dargestellt, zum Beispiel London, davor Wache haltende Grenadiere, aus deren hohen Blechmützen kleine Raketen und andere Feuerwerkskörper aufstiegen. Lediard mag der Erfinder dieser besonderen Form von Illuminationen und Feuerwerken gewesen sein, er behauptet auch in dem Druckwerk, das von ihnen Kunde gibt, er "musste das Project eines illuminirten Theatri entwerffen, auch selbiges zur Execution bringen" weil "kein eigentlich dazu bestellter Mahler ... bei der Opera engagirt gewesen". Aber wir wissen jetzt, daß gerade zu jener Zeit, als diese Veranstaltungen stattfanden, 1724-1728, Jacopo Fabris als Theatermaler am Hamburger Opernhaue tätig war. Und letzterer wird es auch gewesen sein, der die Bühnendekorationen nach den Angaben Lediards ausführte" (Lotz, p. 45). Text-leaves spotted especially in front margins, plates on better paper not affected. First and last leaves with marginal loss to corners. Two plates with closed tears in folds (no loss of image). Two further plates with brown spot.
