2. A Short Account of Algiers, and of its several wars against Spain, France, England, Holland, Venice, and other powers of Europe, £500 from the usurpation of Barbarossa and the invasion of the Emperor Charles V. to the present time. With a concise view of the origin of the rupture between Algiers and the United States. To which is added, a copious appendix, containing letters from Captains Penrose, M'Shane, and sundry other American captives, with a description of the treatment those prisoners experience. Second edition, improved. Philadelphia: Printed for Mathew Carey, October 20, 1794 [Copy right secured, according to Act of Congress.] Later quarter morocco, 8vo. 50pp. + 2 page publisher's advertisements, folding map as frontispiece. In 1785 Dey Muhammad of Algiers declared war on the United States and seized American shipping in the Mediterranean; after much diplomatic activity, some successful, some not so, in 1801 the Americans engaged in their first Barbary war. Issued in the same year as the first edition, the authorship was attributed to Mathew Carey (1760-1839) by Evans. Later quarter black morocco with marbled boards, bookplate of H. O. Havemeyer, Jr., the folding map backed in linen, some offsetting and spotting to the title page, small ink-stamp reading "Duplicate" to tail of contents page, a very nice copy.

3. Alguns Aspectos da Viagem Presidencial as Colónias de Cabo Verde, S. Tomé, Moçambique e Angola e da Visita do Chefe do Estado à União Sul-Africana, £1,500

realizadas em Junho, Agosto e Setembro de 1939. República Portuguesa Ministério das Colónias. Some Particulars about the Presidential Tour to the Colonies of Cabo Verde, S.Tomé, Mozambique and Angola, as well as his Excellency General Carmona's visit to the Union of South Africa, June to September 1939. In three volumes. Lisbon: Agência Geral das Colónias, 1940 Publisher's cloth backed printed boards, Oblong Roy.8vo.

(1). iii,114pp. 114 collotype plates from photographs.

(2). i,121pp. 121 collotype plates from photographs.

(3). ii,42pp. 42 collotype plates from photographs.

Spines to volumes I and II a little worn. With Portuguese, French and English texts.

"The patriotic emotion and deep enthusiasm which the population of the colonies of Cabo Verde, S.Tomé, Mozambique and Angola greeted his Excellency General Carmona on his second journey to African shores, makes it an unforgettable and remarkable event. His excellency was the colonie's guest from July to September. Though incomplete and deficient as an exhibit of a very impressive and memorable journey, this book simply stands as a record of flitting images. Some news taken during his excellency General Carmona's visit to the Union of South Africa are also here displayed, the warm greeting given at the Portuguese Chief of State showing the excellent relations of friendship and mibourghliness [sic] which unite the two countries".

Oscar Carmona (1869 - 1951) was president of Portugal from 1926 to 1951. These volumes contain extraordinary images of old warships, the Portuguese dictator surrounded by saluting admirers in crisp uniforms, huge parades, scenes and crowds. An impressive collection of photographic images.

4. ALLEN, William & T. R. H. Thomson A Narrative of the Expedition sent by Her Majesty's Government to The River Niger in 1841. £900

Under the command of Captain H. D. Trotter, R.N. By Captain William Allen, R.N. and T.R.H. Thomson, M.D., Surgeon, R.N. Published with the sanction of the Colonial Office and the Admiralty. In two volumes. London: Richard Bentley, 1848 8vo. (1). xviii,509pp. 9 plates, (1 folding), 3 maps, (2 folding), coloured geological section, 12 text-illustrations. (2). viii,511pp. 9 plates, 13 text-illustrations, linguistic and natural history appendices.

Captain Henry Dundas Trotter (1802 - 1859) commanded the 1841 expedition which was sent by the British Government to further the progress of the suppression of the slave trade through legitimate trade and to further explore the course of the Niger. Although the expedition was a failure due to disease, the various publications were a useful outcome. The spines carefully rebacked in a matching cloth with the original gilt lettered backstrips laid-on (volume I has a piece of the lettering missing), repairs to the folds on the maps and folding plate, some light foxing on the steel engravings, a very nice set in the publisher's blindstamped olive cloth, with the Pull Court Library bookplate of the politician William Dowdeswell (1804 - 1870) M.P. for Tewkesbury from 1835 to 1845, and from the library of the African-American collector and writer, Professor John Ralph Willis with his bookplate.

5. BACKHOUSE, James A Narrative of a Visit to the Mauritius and South Africa. £250

75. MARTINO, Giacomo de La Somalia Italiana nei tre anni del mio Governo.

Relazione del senatore nobile Giacomo de Martino, presentata al Parlamento dal ministro delle colonie, Pietro Bertolini. Roma: C. Colombo, Tip. della Camera dei deputati, 1912. Later cloth with publisher's wrappers bound-in, Roy.4to. 211pp. 15 illustrations, 13 maps (12 folding and 10 in colour). Documenting the status of Somalia at that time. Giacomo de Martino (1868-1956) was governor of Italian Somaliland from 1910 to 1916. A very nice copy in a later green cloth with a black leather label to the spine.

76. MEYER, Hans Die Barundi. Eine völkerkundliche Studie aus Deutsch-Ostafrika.

Mit 1 farbigen Karte, 32 Lichtdrucktafeln, 23 Tafeln in Übung und 19 Textbildern. Königlich Sächsische Forschungsinstitut in Leipzig Institut für Völkerkunde Erste Reihe: Ethnographie und Ethnologie, Erster Band. Leipzig: Verlag von Otto Spamer, 1916. 4to. xiv, 205pp. 32 collotype plates and 23 half-tone plates, 18 text-illustrations and 2 maps in text, coloured folding map, biblio., index.

Hans Heinrich Josef Meyer (1858 - 1929) was a German geographer and ethnographer who was the first European to climb to the summit of Mount Kilimanjaro. He undertook research in German East Africa and in 1915 became director of the Institute for Colonial Geography.

The Winterton copy with his bookplate, spine slightly bumped at tail, a very nice copy in the publisher's olive green cloth. The half-tone plates show many examples of artefacts.

77. MIGEOD, Frederick William Hugh Across Equatorial Africa.

Illustrated by seventy-one photographs, eleven plates of face marks, and five wall drawings. London: Heath Cranton Limited, 1923. 8vo. 397pp. 71 illustrations on plates, 11 pages of drawings, 5 text-illustrations, map, linguistic and anthropologic appendices, index.

Frederick William Hugh Migeod (1872 - 1952) was a British colonial officer who founded and then served as Chief of the Transport Department in the Gold Coast from 1900-1919. During 1919-1921 the author travelled across Africa from Gaboon to Mombasa and back again from Tanganyika to the mouth of the Congo studying the ethnology and languages of those regions.

Head of spine bumped, spine and covers slightly marked, and considering the lack of care undertaken by the publishers in producing this and other volumes - a very reasonable copy in the publisher's dark blue cloth. This copy has a signed presentation inscription from the author on the title page.

78. Missionary Records. West Indies.

London: Religious Tract Society, nd. (circa 1835). 12mo. xvi, 308pp. folding map as frontispiece. Slight damage to verso of map where badly folded, little foxing to map, faint stains to upper board, with the bookplate of "W. Wilfred Carey, 1880", a very nice copy in the publisher's dark brown cloth.

82. OLIVER, S. P. Madagascar and the Malagasy. With sketches in the Provinces of Tamatave, Betanimena, and Ankova. £850

By Lieut. S. P. Oliver, Royal Artillery. F.R.G.S. "Ubique." London: Published by Day and Son, 1866. Later half calf with marbled boards, Roy.8vo. xiii, 105pp. 24 tinted lithographs, map and plan, appendix. In 1861 King Radama II reopened Madagascar to foreigners and Lieut. Samuel Pasfield Oliver (1838 - 1907) accompanied the 1862 British Mission to King Radama II's coronation as aide-de-camp to Major-General Johnstone. This account is taken from Oliver's diary of the journey to the capitol Antananarivo from Tamatave and is well-illustrated with sketches of the scenes along the route. The tinted lithographs are particularly fine. From the library of Quentin Keynes, one or two marks in the text, a very nice copy in a later half calf with marbled boards and a red morocco lettering piece.

83. OLSCHKI, Leo S. Aethiopia, Catalogi N° 131. £125

Firenze: Libreria Leo S. Olschki, 1958. Later cloth, Cr.8vo. 24pp. A catalogue of Ethiopian books from the Italian bookseller, Leo Olschki. From the library of Dr. Juel-Jensen with his Amharic bookplate and copies of correspondence between him and Mrs. Olschki-Witt; a fine copy in a later light yellow cloth with the publisher's wrappers bound-in.

84. PAEZ, [Gaspero and A. Mendes] Lettere annue di Ethiopia del 1624, 1625 e 1626. £2,000

Scritte al M.R.P. Mutio Vitelleschi, Generale della Compagnia di Giesu. A Roma: l'Herede di Bartolomeo Zannetti, 1628. Recent wrappers, small 8vo. [16 cm.] 232pp. The first edition of this collection of reports from the Jesuit missions in Ethiopia sent in a series of letters to Vitelleschi, the Director General of the Society of Jesus at Rome. In parts, "Dell'Anno 1624 e 1625" and "Dell'Anno 1626" both signed by Gaspero Paëz, and pages 97-172 by Mendes signed as 'Alfonso Patriarca d'Ethiopia.' Gaspero Paëz, a Jesuit priest not to be confused with Pedro Paëz, was born in 1593 at Covilhao, went to Ethiopia in 1624 and was martyred at Assa in 1635. Alfonso Mendes was sent to Ethiopia from Goa in 1625 as patriarch to replace Pedro Paëz who had died in 1622. Their letters give a detailed account of the country, the state of the church, and the activities of the various Jesuit missions stations in Ethiopia. Interestingly Paëz asks for type or blocks so that a press can be set up to print works legible to the Ethiopians. On his arrival in Ethiopia Alfonso Mendes was responsible for the Emperor Susenyos declaring his allegiance to the Pope; however his high-handed attitude towards the Ethiopians resulted in the expulsion of the Jesuits in 1634 and the martyrdom of several including Gaspero Paëz. Light brown stain on title extending through preliminary pages, some outer corner wear to preliminaries, encased in recent cream stiff paper in imitation of vellum. From the library of Dr. Juel-Jensen with his Amharic bookplate, and his invoice for this book from the bookshop of Leo S. Olschki in Lucignano dated 1976. [Fumagalli 1624; Streit: 2719] COPAC lists the Oxford copy and two British Library copies.

who was tried under Martial Law, and condemned to death, on a charge of aiding and assisting in a Rebellion of the Negro Slaves; from a full and correct copy, Transmitted to England by Mr. Smith's Counsel, and including The Documentary Evidence omitted in the Parliamentary Copy; with An Appendix; containing The Letters and Statements of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Elliot, Mr. Arrindell, &c.; and, also, the Society's Petition to the House of Commons. The Whole published under the Authority of the Directors of the Said Society. London: Published by F. Westley, and Sold by Hatchard and Son; and L. B. Seeley, 1824 8vo. vii,204pp. John Smith (1790 - 1824) became an LMS missionary in British Guiana in 1817. On the outbreak of a slave revolt in 1823, Smith whose sympathy with the slaves was well known was accused of aiding the rebellion. He was tried and sentenced to death. The ensuing public outcry led to a pardon, however he died in prison before the news reached the colony. Leaf containing pages 181/182 has been cut out and replaced by a facsimile, spine worn at head and tail, a good copy in the paper covered boards with paper label.

105. STANLEY, Henry M In Darkest Africa, or the Quest Rescue and Retreat of Emin, Governor of Equatoria. £450

With one hundred and fifty woodcut illustrations and maps. In two volumes. London: Sampson Low, Marston, Searle and Rivington, 1890 8vo.

(2). xv,472pp. 23 plates, numerous text-illustrations, 3 coloured maps, (2 folding), index.

Sir Henry Morton Stanley (1841-1904) African explorer, journalist and Member of Parliament was persuaded by the shipping magnate William Mackinnon late in 1886 to lead an expedition to relieve Eduard Schnitzer, known as Emin Pasha, the beleaguered governor of equatorial Sudan. 'The advance party of just under 400 men, led by Stanley, set off for Lake Albert on a 450 mile journey of over five months through the Ituri rain forest. Stanley's descriptions of the tortuous passage through the dense forest rank among the most celebrated of all his writings.' - ODNB. Both volumes carefully recased, occasional spotting in the text, repairs to folds on the two large maps, a very nice set of the first edition in the publisher's brick red decorated cloth.

106. STARR, Frederick Congo Natives: An Ethnographic Album. £1,250

Chicago: Printed for the Author by the Lakeside Press, 1912 Roy.4to. 38pp. 130 collotype plates, (many with two or more photographs), map.

Frederick Starr (1858 - 1933) was curator of the American Museum of Natural History's ethnological collection from 1889 to 1891. He then became the first anthropologist to hold a position at the University of Chicago, where he remained until 1923. Starr did anthropological fieldwork in Mexico, Liberia, the Congo, the Philippines, and in the United States.

These very interesting photographs represent part of the results of an expedition into the Congo Free State in 1905-06, which consisted of the author and Manuel Gonzales, who was responsible for the photographs, apart from 13 taken by missionaries at Ikoko, Bolobo and Upoto. They spent just over a year studying various peoples and amassed an ethnographical collection of over three thousand five hundred pieces which was acquired by the American Museum of Natural History. The photographs depict individuals, groups, village scenes, arts, crafts, etc.

An un-numbered copy from an edition of 350 copies. A very nice copy in the publisher's green cloth with the gilt lettering to spine and upper board.

London: Chapman and Hall, 1890 8vo. xi,361pp. + 40pp. publisher's advertisements, 14 plates, coloured folding map, appendix. John Rose Troup (? - 1919) joined Stanley's expedition for the relief of Emin Pasha, governor of Equatoria. Left with the Rear Column, Troup gives his version of events, refuting many of Stanley's public accusations of incompetence. The preface details the author's disagreement with Stanley and the resulting court actions concerning the publishing of this work. A very nice copy in the publisher's green cloth.

118. TUCKER, Alfred R Eighteen Years in Uganda and East Africa. £450

By Alfred R. Tucker, Bishop of Uganda. In two volumes. With illustrations from drawings by the author and a map. London: Edward Arnold, Publisher to the India Office, 1908 8vo.

(1). xvi,359pp. photogravure frontispiece and 29 plates, (1 in colour), coloured folding map.

(2). xii,388pp. colour frontispiece and 29 plates, (2 in colour), appendix, index.

Alfred Robert Tucker (1849 - 1914) was sent to East Africa as a bishop in 1890. When in Baganda he supported the Anglican cause and sided with Captain Lugard of the Imperial British East Africa Company in establishing a British sphere. He returned to England in 1893 to gather support for the continuing British occupation. However he was equally critical of colonial abuse and spent the last ten years of his life in promoting the Ugandan church as distinct from the sometimes paternalistic attitude of the Anglican missionaries; in this he was largely successful. A fine set in the publisher's gilt decorated dark blue cloth.

119. [TULLY, Richard] Narrative of a Ten Years' Residence at Tripoli in Africa.

£1,000

From the original correspondence in the possession of the family of the late Richard Tully, Esq., the British Consul. Comprising Authentic Memories and Anecdotes of the reigning Bashaw, his family, and other persons of distinction; Also, an account of the domestic manners of the Moors, Arabs, and Turks. Second edition. Illustrated with a map and several coloured plates. London: Printed for Henry Colburn, sold also by J. Cumming, Dublin; and Bell and Bradfute, Edinburgh, 1817. Contemporary marbled boards with recent dark brown half-calf in the manner of the original, 4to. xiv, 376pp. coloured aquatint frontispiece and 6 coloured aquatint plates, folding engraved map of the Regencies of Tripoly and Tunis, appendix of Moorish words and their translations, index.

The author was the sister-in-law of the Consul, Richard Tully, and this provides a vivid picture of North African life written in the form of letters dating from July 1783 to April 1795. The second edition was similar in text to the first edition of 1816 but had 7 coloured aquatints instead of the 5 in the first edition. The leather on the spine and corners recently replaced, new endpapers, slight spotting to verso only of frontispiece, miniscule hole in blank portion of title, a very nice copy in a smart binding with the pages crisp and unfoxed.

[Playfair, Tripoli: 143] [Abbey Travel: 301].

120. VARTHEMA, Ludovico di Itinerario del venerable varon micer Luis patricio romano:

enal qual cuéta mucha parte dela ethiopia Egipto: y entrabas Arabias: Siria y la India. Buelto de latin en romance por Christoual de Arcos clerigo. Nunca hasta aqui impresso en lengua castellana. Fue impressa la presente obra en la muy noble leal ciudad de Seuilla por Jacobo Cróberger aleman. En el año dela encarnacion del señor de Will e quinientos y veynte. [Seville, Jacob Cromberger, 1520] Later calf, small folio. [28 x 20 cm.] [1], lv Ff. [1]. title with large woodcut arms within typographical border.

Ludovico di Varthema (c. 1470 - 1517) was an Italian traveller and writer. This work describes the first recorded visit by a Christian to Mecca, Varthema having joined the Hajj at Damascus in 1503. He travelled onwards to Yemen, Aden, the Arabian gulf and Persia, before sailing to India and journeying into Ethiopia. This is the first edition in Spanish, the original account, "Itinerario de Ludovico de Varthema" in Italian, was published at Rome in December 1510. 'Varthema's Itinerario, first published in 1510, had an enormous impact at the time, and in some respects determined the course of European expansion towards the Orient' - [Raymond J. Howgego, Encyclopaedia of Exploration to 1800, p.1057.] The title with large woodcut arms within typographical border provided in fine facsimile, approximately 10 pagination numerals shaved, tears closed to a2 and a8, a very good copy in a later eighteenth century Spanish calf, the rebaked spine gilt in compartments but untitled. From the library of Sir Thomas Phillipps with the Middle Hill shelfmark; and latterly from the library of Dr. Juel-Jensen with his Amharic bookplate.

121. VEIGA, Manoel de [& Antonio d'Andrade] Relacam geral do es'tado da Christandade de Ethiopia; Reducam dos Scismaticos; Entrada, & Recebiméto do Patriacha Dom Affonso Mendes; £12,500

Obediencia dada polo Emperador Seltá Segued com toda sua Corte à Igreja Romana; & do que de novo socedeeo no descobriméto do Thybet, a que chamam, gram Catayo. Composta, e copiada das cartas que os Padres da Companhia de Iesu, escrevêram da India Oriental dos annos de 624. 625. & 626. Pelo padre Manoel da Veiga, da mesma Companhia, natural de Villauçosa. Lisbon: Por Matheus Pinheiro, Anno de 1628 Contemporary sheep, small 4to. (19 x 13 cm.) [2], 124 leaves. Includes one of the earliest descriptions of Tibet.

Da Veiga (1566-1647) was a Jesuit missionary in Ethiopia, and the first sections of the work discuss the activities of the Jesuits in that country. In 1624 he accompanied Antonio de Andrade's pioneering mission into Tibet. Da Veiga's account (folios 103-124) gives much reliable information about the expedition, their work at Tsaparang, negotiations with local lamas and the Tibetan religion. Owing to its geographical inaccessibility, Tibet was long a terra incognita to European exploration, and in the absence of eyewitness accounts gave rise to the most extravagant myths. Andrade's description was to provide Europeans with the first reliable information about the country.

The work is an important historical document, since in providing an account of the Jesuits' disputations with the lamas, it reported some of the first ethnographic data on the native Tibetan religion and related customs to a European audience. Although separate cartas had been printed in Lisbon and elsewhere of the 1624 and 1626 journeys by the Jesuits to Tibet, this is the first collected account of Westerners visiting Tibet.

From the library of Dr. Juel-Jensen with his Amharic bookplate, lacking front free endpaper, on folio 107v, a small cancel slip is pasted on and a paper fault has resulted in two small holes to the base of that leaf, spine worn away at part of first compartment, a very nice copy in a contemporary sheep with gilt spine and a red leather label.

Continued by a narrative of his last moments and sufferings, obtained from his faithful servants Chuma and Susi. In Two Volumes. London: John Murray, 1874 8vo.

(1). xvi,360pp. 7 plates, 18 illustrations, coloured folding map in pocket, 6pp. of publisher's advertisements.

(2). viii,346pp. 14 plates (1 coloured), 6 illustrations, coloured folding map, 20pp. of publisher's advertisements.

Horace Waller (1833-1896) missionary and slavery abolitionist, became a missionary in Nyasaland in 1860. He spent three years there and became friends with David Livingstone and John Kirk. 'When Livingstone's body and diaries were brought to England in 1874, Waller was asked to edit his Last Journals. He set out to ensure that Livingstone's name would continue as synonymous with the anti-slavery cause. He omitted all Livingstone's complaints about other travellers and his African attendants, depicting him as a gentle, saintly martyr.' - ODNB.

Spines faded, volume I carefully recased and head and tail of spine on volume II rubbed, map in volume I worn at folds, a very nice copy in the publisher's purple cloth with gilt decoration to spine and upper board.
