We start this catalogue with part two of an interesting range of recently purchased books focussing on Australia and Botanical Illustration which we first began in Catalogue No. 109.

A set of Mordecai Cooke's 'Illustrations of British Fungi' with a very interesting provenance (item 321); a very handsome set of Edward Donovan's 'The Natural History of British Insects' (item 327) and a very rare copy of Bretschneider's 'History of European Botanical Discoveries in China' (item 318) are a few of our recently acquired Fine, Illustrated and Antiquarian works.

New Naturalist 132 – Falcons proved a very popular title following publication in July. Further details can be found in this catalogue (item 693).

Next in the pipeline is New Naturalist 133 – Slugs and Snails. Publication is currently planned for 15th December 2016. We'll be offering our now usual 25% discount off the RRP of £65.00, so please do let us know if you would like a copy.

With our thanks for your continued custom and best wishes for Christmas & the New Year,

Darren

In original green cloth boards, lightly rubbed, o/w. thor. vg. Minor, scattered foxing to contents, which are o/w. in fine condition. TEG. Bookplate of Arthur B. Duncan to front paste-down. A very pleasing copy. [50785] £525.00
Dedication copy from Rowland Ward which reads 'Captain Stanley Flower, with Rowland Ward[s] Kind Regards 1906' to J.F.P. Captain Flower (1871-1946) was Director of the Cairo Zoological Gardens, Egypt between 1898 - 1924.

315. Austen, Ralph. A Treatise of Fruit-Trees, shewing the manner of planting, grafting, pruning and ordering of them in all respects....whereunto is annexed, observations upon Sr. Francis Bacons Natural History, as it concerns Fruit-Trees, Fruits and Flowers. 1st. Ed. 3rd. Rev. with additions Pub. Oxford. 1665 pp.[xlviiii], 260, [x], 82 with engraved, decorated title page and longitudinal half-title. Royal 16mo. Paper at front internal hinge absent. Contents in thor. vg. condition. Near contemporary leather, neatly rebacked preserving original spine; edges slightly rubbed, o/w. vg. Early manuscript number on paper label to bottom of spine. Very scarce. [50958] £1,250.00
The copy offered here is the much enlarged & revised 1st edition, 3rd impression. No further editions or reprints followed. A highly respected publication, '...the beginning of the work is interspersed with texts from the Bible, and is typical of the puritanical style of the day, the 'Treatise' as a whole contains much useful information on the planting and care of trees' (Henrey 7).
316. Baker, E.C. Stuart. The Indian Ducks and their Allies. 1st. Ed. Pub. Bombay Nat. Hist. Soc. 1908 pp.xii, 292 plus 30 hand finished chromolithograph plates and additional illustrated title page. Imperial 8vo. A minor amount of spotting, largely confined to text o/w. contents in fine condition. In original publishers binding of half morocco leather with green boards; spine gently and evenly faded o/w. in fine condition. Limited to 1,200 copies. A nice example. [34471] £250.00
Edward Charles Stuart Baker worked as a police officer in Assam. In his spare time, he studied and collected Indian birds. Through these pursuits he amassed nearly 50,000 birds eggs, some of which he donated to the Natural History Museum. The text is a mixture of anecdotes, references to the key people and works of the period and in-depth insight into the birds. The highly talented artists Gronvold, Lodge and Keulemans contributed the plates for this work.
317. Bowdler Sharpe, Richard. Sharpe's Birds of Paradise. Pub. Folio Society. 2011 Two volume set. Folio (with slipcase) and 8vo. Folio plate volume with 79 colour plates, printed on high quality Italian paper; bound in quarter morocco leather with splendid gilt and colour decoration to front board. TEG. Commentary volume bound in matching canvas cloth (pp.292). Numbered, limited edition of 1,000 copies. Fine condition. [50572] £495.00
The Folio Society reproduced here, for the first time, all 79 plates of Sharpe's Birds of Paradise at their actual size. David Attenborough wrote the foreword and was delighted with the reproduction. The illustrations present these fabulous birds in radiant colour and exquisite detail.
318. Bretschneider, E. History of European Botanical Discoveries in China. Vol. I & II. 1st. Ed. Pub. Sampson Low, Marston and Company. 1898 Two volumes bound as one. Med 4to. With title pages for both volumes. Contents near fine. Neat signature to ffep. Minor ink mark to fore-edge of some pages and to small area of associated margin. More recently, handsomely rebound in black half-morocco with dark green cloth and endpapers. Raised bands on spine with gilt decoration and lettering. All rebinding work closely matching original. All in fine condition. Rare. [50571] £2,950.00
An immense, highly desirable work. In his preface, Emil Bretschneider wrote "It has been attempted in the following pages to supply the want of a work of reference, in which botanists dealing with Chinese plants preserved in European herbariums might find some particulars regarding the history of these collections, of which the labels affixed to the herbarium specimens generally give only an imperfect account."
319. Brookes, Richard. A New System of Natural History. Vol. 1 - Quadrupeds; Vol. 2 - Birds; Vol. 3. - Fishes & Serpents; Vol. 4 - Insects; Vol. 5 - Earths, Minerals and Fossils; Vol. 6 - Vegetables. 1st. Ed. Pub. London. 1763 Six volumes with 146 engraved plates. 16mo. Collated and complete. Neat repair to margin of title-page in vol. 4. With the bookplate of E H Greenly, Titley Court, Herefordshire to front paste-down of each volume. One closed tear to one leaf on index, o/w. contents in fine condition. Contemporary half-calf with marbled boards, richly gilt decorated on spines, all in thoroughly vg. condition. [49779] £1,250.00
Brookes (fl.1721-1763) was an English physician and author. He worked with one of the great names in English literature, Oliver Goldsmith on this superb work. Goldsmith wrote the prefaces to the first four volumes and notices to promote the work. Properties, virtues and medicinal uses feature strongly in the natural history accounts of each entry. 'A New System of Natural History' provided an important precursor to a great period of growth in the sciences in the late 18th and early 19th centuries. The work sold well and went to a second edition, helping to advance the study of natural history.
320. Butler, A.G. British Birds' Eggs: A Handbook of British Oology. Pub. E.W. Janson. [1886] pp.viii, 219 plus 38 colour chromolithograph plates by the author. 8vo. Text in fine condition; several plates with some foxing, largely confined to margins, o/w. in fine condition. Ownership inscription removed from front paste-down. '1886' neatly written at foot of title-page. Six neat inscriptions to text being corrections of, for example, a location mentioned in the text. Original boards in thor. vg. condition, lightly marked on rear. Scarce. [49348] £225.00
Mullens & Swann (1917) indicate 28 plates but there are in fact 38 plates in a complete copy of this work.
321. Cooke, Mordecai Cubbitt. Illustrations of British Fungi. Hymenomycetes. 1st. Ed. Pub. Williams & Norgate. 1881-91 Eight volume set with 1198 fine chromolithographed plates. 8vo. Bound without preface, systematic index & corrigenda in Vol.I; a previous owner has typed this information to form a neat replacement A5 booklet. Vols. I & II have half-titles, not full-titles; all other volumes have full-titles, not half-titles. Handmade bookplate taped to ffep Vol.I. Some foxing to ends and some plates which are very clean overall. Neat repairs to verso of 3 plates and one title-page. Some wear to small areas of outer hinges on four volumes, internally bindings are tight and very sound. Handsome contemporary half-leather, richly decorated and lettered in gilt to spines. Some marking to boards, bindings do show wear and rubbing in places, still very handsome. A scarce set. [50902] £1,650.00

Provenance: Unique and very interesting. This set having been owned by well-respected mycologist Ronald W. Rayner, then more recently, his son, Dr. A.D.M Rayner. On the verso of the majority of the plates, R.W. Rayner neatly wrote (in pencil) notes on the fungi in question, extracted from his studies of works by Carleton Rea, Jean Louis Emile Boudier, Charles Plowright, A.A. Pearson, Locquin and more.

328. Douglas, J.W. (Ed.). The Substitute; or Entomological Exchange Facilitator, and Entomologist's fire-side Companion. 1st. Ed. Pub. Newman & Kent. 1856-7 pp.viii, 240; consisting of all twenty published parts. Crown 8vo. This copy was a gift from Rev. C.R.N Burrows (F.E.S) & reads 'Maurice Paley from C.R.N Burrows, 26.ix.27'. Contents in thor. vg. condition. Very handsomely bound in green decorated cloth, with gilt lettering to spine, all in thor. vg. condition. Very scarce. [50181] £275.00
The intention behind this Journal was that it should take the place of another similar publication 'The Intelligencer' through the winter of 1856/7 when the latter journal did not appear; thereby meeting the desire of interested entomologists to share their lists of duplicate specimens for exchange, desiderata, information about captures and more. Contributors came from across the UK, with some of the more well known including Richard Trimen, Charles G. Barrett and C.R. Bree.
329. Dresser, Henry Eeles. Eggs of the Birds of Europe. Including all the Species Inhabiting the Western Palæarctic Area. 1st. Ed. Pub. by the Author, at the Office of The RSPB. (1905-1910) Two volume set with 106 colour plates and further illustrations in text. Collated and complete. Royal 4to. 330. Dykes, W.R. Notes on Tulip Species. 1st. Pub. Herbert Jenkins. 1930 pp. 108 with 54 beautifully illustrated plates by the author. Top/bottom of spine gently bumped, bottom right hand corner of front board has been professionally repaired. Scarce in original dustwrapper which has been mounted onto similar coloured paper to preserve it. Dustwrapper has a little loss in places and some stain marks. Still a very nice copy. [32374] £225.00
331. Elick, Don. & Booth, Raymond. Japonica Magnifica. 1st. Ed. Pub. Alan Sutton . 1992 pp.144 with 64 colour plates. Folio. Thoroughly fine copy bound in green quarter calf and cloth. With slipcase also in fine condition. Copy No.55 from a limited edition of 210. With two specially commissioned additional plates, both signed by R.C. Booth. [50692] £275.00
This book was published to celebrate the beauty of Japanese flowers and plants through the original botanical paintings and drawings of English artist and horticulturist Raymond Booth. Botanist Don Elick provided many of the specimens for Booth, who grew them in his garden in Yorkshire, in order to study and draw them from life. Each plant portrait is true to scale and remarkably accurate.
332. Evelyn, John, (Hunter Edition) Silva: or a Discourse of Forest Trees (bound with) Terra: A Philosophical Discourse of Earth. Printed by A.Ward for J. Dodsley. 1776 & 1787 Two volumes bound as one. pp.[58], 649, [11] with 40 full-page copper engraved plates & 1 fold-out table, [8], 74, [14] with 1 plate and 1 fold-out table. Royal 4to. Minor amount of off-setting & spotting. Small holes to margin of 4 consecutive leaves. Overall contents near fine. Contemporary full-calf boards in vg. condition, more recently well rebacked. A thoroughly vg. copy. The uncommon prospectus for this edition of Silva bound in at rear. The best edition. [49776] £750.00
Among his many other accomplishments, John Evelyn was well known for his knowledge of trees. 'Silva' was written as an encouragement to landowners to plant trees to provide timber for England's burgeoning Navy. This edition was revised and added to by Alexander Hunter, a medical practitioner and fellow of the Royal Society, who included many additional engravings.

Written in the couple of years immediately preceding the publication of the first edition of Charles Darwin's, 'Origin of Species', these works are a fascinating insight on many levels. William Harrison was a King's Counsel who lived in Hitchin, Hertfordshire. These manuscripts demonstrate his detailed knowledge of the subjects presented with references to the works of such illuminaries as William Scoresby, Cuvier and Lazzaro Spallanzani. Two volumes are dedicated to Natural History (pp. 122 & pp.58), specifically Mammals, written from the standpoint of Creation, using the British Museum's classification system. Harrison writes in his preface 'nearly every animal has found its place in this work and although it may have its colour mentioned only, the more interesting quadrupeds such as the Lion, Elephant etc have anecdotes etc to show their disposition' The three other manuscripts are equally well informed and fascinatingly illustrated. One is dedicated to 'Electricity' (pp.114), the other two to Astronomy and Natural Philosophy (pp.124 & pp.116 respectively). The transcription is a copy of what appears to be most of Part I of Robert Dodsley's 'The Oeconomy of Human Life' first published in 1750.

Scarce and very seldom found in such a run. [50652] £1,750.00
'Kew Bulletin of Miscellaneous Information' continues today as the quarterly journal 'Kew Bulletin'. It began in 1887 with the aim of communicating the latest botanical information of economic importance between the botanists of Kew and the distant parts of the British Empire. It quickly expanded to include reports on plants new to science and horticulture, contributions to the knowledge of the flora of many areas around the world, emerging plant disease information and much more. Biographies of noted people within these fields and a catalogue of the books held in Kew's library make this a fascinating and valuable reference work.

Thomas Blaikie, born in 1751 at Corstorphine near Edinburgh, was the most fashionable garden designer in France at the end of the 18th century. He laid out and planted the gardens at Bagatelle in the Bois de Boulogne, for the Comte d'Artois (later becoming Charles X). Other famous gardens followed, and Blaikie's diary gives an insight into the social life of the court where he was a great favourite of Marie Antoinette.
