Board of Trade. 1859. Compiled by Rear Admiral Fitzroy, F.R.S. First Edition; pp. 36; contemporary half calf (rubbed), with cloth sides, a very good ex-library copy from the New Zealand General Assembly with cancelled label on pastedown and a single stamp at head of Page 3, otherwise nice and clean; rare. London; Printed by George Eyre and William Spottiswoode ... and sold by J. D. Potter, Agent for Admiralty Charts ...; 1859. \**Fitzroy is probably best known for his role as captain of HMS Beagle during her voyage with Charles Darwin as naturalist and geologist. However he was a pioneering meteorologist, who after a stint as New Zealand's second Governor and further naval service was appointed on the recommendation of the Royal Society as head of a new department which was to become the Meteorological Office. He was greatly concerned for the safety of seafarers and the possibilities of making weather information more widely available. He directed the design and distribution of a type of barometer which was fixed at every port to be available to crews for consultation before setting out to sea and the invention of several different types of barometers was attributed to him. This is his first work on the weather and the possibilities of prediction by means of barometric measurements. He later, in 1863, published a more substantial book, The Weather Book, since acclaimed as far ahead of the scientific opinion of the time.* #67090 A$650.00

- 20 Frost, Alan. *THE GLOBAL REACH OF EMPIRE. Britain's maritime expansion in the Indian and Pacific Oceans, 1764-1815. First Edition; pp. xiv, 386(last blank); 2 endpaper maps, 12 maps in text (4 double-page), 5 illustrations on 4 coloured plates, 6 text figures, 4 tables, notes, bibliography, index; original papered boards; a fine copy in dustwrapper; very scarce. (Carlton); The Miegunyah Press; (2003). ****Number 46 in the second numbered Miegunyah series; 1000 copies were printed. Globalization began much earlier than commonly realised. In the mid eighteenth century there was for the first time in human history sufficient knowledge of the world for people to conceive of it as a whole. British politicians did so with the purpose of creating a trans-Pacific trading empire and this book is a study of the resulting British maritime and imperial expansion in the Indian and Pacific oceans. It explores seaborne discovery, strategy in wartime, and the infrastructure necessary to support far-flung maritime activity, colonization and trade.*

Portuguese career of Arthur Phillip, Commander of the First Fleet and Australia's first Governor. Phillip attained the rank of Captain in the Portuguese Navy during a three-and-a-half year secondment to that service, and played an important role in the Colonia War between Spain and Portugal. Most of the material in this book has never before been presented in English and throws much light on the beginnings of our history in the same way that the author's now famous previous work "The Secret Discovery of Australia" stimulated examination of the history of discovery of our country.* #656

AN ESSENTIAL BOOK IN ANY MARITIME LIBRARY

47 Parkin, Ray. H. M. BARK ENDEAVOUR. Her place in Australian History. With an Account of her Construction, Crew and Equipment and a Narrative of her Voyage on the East Coast of New Holland in the Year 1770. With Plans, Charts and Illustrations by the Author. Med. 4to, First Edition; pp. xii, 468; 25 maps, 31 full- & half-page ship drawings and 12 smaller, several sourced from original drawings by Sydney Parkinson, 2 reproductions of original drawings by Parkinson, 15 other illustrations by Ray Parkin (mostly views), notes, bibliography, index; original cloth, gilt; together with, in cloth folding case, 15 detailed ship drawings and plans by Ray Parkin, each 800 by 580 mm., and sourced from original Admiralty drawings supplemented by sketches of Sydney Parkinson, artist on the "Endeavour"; a fine set in cloth slipcase. (Melbourne); The Miegunyah Press; (1997).

\**First Edition, limited to 1000 copies for sale, and a superior production to any subsequent printings. Number Thirteen in the second Miegunyah Press series. A magnificent production; a long-overdue detailed analysis of Captain James Cook's ship, fully placed in the context of her time.*

The "Endeavour" is one of the most famous ships in maritime history, yet surprisingly few details of her were known to any but a small number of maritime historians. More than twenty-five years before publication of this book, Ray Parkin, seaman, author and artist was amazed to find how little was known and recorded of this ship, and set out to document everything he could discover. His researches were encouraged by that renowned scholar and chronicler of James Cook, Professor J. C. Beaglehole. The result is the most painstaking study of the "Endeavour" yet undertaken and a unique account of a great voyage of discovery: the passage of the "Endeavour" up the east coast of Australia (then called New Holland) in the year 1770.

Written for the scholar, mariner and layperson alike, Ray Parkin has recreated for the reader the very "experience" of being on board H. M. Bark "Endeavour". With meticulous research, he reveals what she looked like, how she sailed, how she smelled; all aspects of daily life on board. No part of the ship or her functioning is too insignificant for his enquiries. How many strands of yarn were there in the ships cable? (954) Did the ship have a lightning conductor? (Yes) What was the diameter of the main mast? (21 inches). The work is divided into two sections:

Part I, The World of the Ship, details the sailor and his environment, the Captain, the ship herself, scurvy and provisioning, the ship's company, and remarks on individuals come to notice through misfortune or by their sins and adventures. The text is accompanied by a series of plans and figures depicting the ship's architecture and construction, her deck plan, rigging, sails, armament, boats, cables, anchors and accommodation. Fifteen of these are reproduced as large folding full-size sketches in the accompanying folding case.

Part II, The Voyage (up the east coast of Australia), is a masterly synthesis of the Ships Log and the journals of James Cook, Sydney Parkinson and Joseph Banks, supplemented where illuminating and appropriate, by extracts from the journals of other members of the ship's complement, and with an interpretive commentary and clearly drawn explanatory charts.

The Author, Ray Parkin, was born in Melbourne and joined the Royal Australian Navy in 1928, spending eighteen years in the service. He was on board HMAS "Perth" in 1942 when the cruiser was sunk in Sunda Strait, killing two thirds of her complement. After the sinking Mr Parkin spent three and a half years as a Japanese prisoner of war in Java, on the Burma-Siam railway and in coal mines in Japan. His vivid accounts of these experiences in World War II were published by the Hogarth Press: "Out of the Smoke" (1960), "Into the Smother" (1963), and "The Sword and the Blossom" (1967). At the end of the war Mr Parkin completed a fine arts course. He worked on the Melbourne waterfront until his retirement in 1975 when he went to London to continue his research on the "Endeavour".

"H. M. Bark Endeavour", is an absorbing book: discursive, erudite, at times poetic; full of wisdom, insight and information. It is an ESSENTIAL companion and supplement to the standard works on Cook's voyages. Sadly, Ray Parkin died in May, 2005. #49819

A Second Edition, with the libellous matter expunged, appeared in 1889. "A full and scholarly work, abounding in laborious research and criticism, discounted by strong philo-Maori views, and censure on the treatment adopted towards the natives since our first contact with them, and especially during the war of 1860-69". - HOCKEN. She was sent south again to rescue Shackleton's men marooned on Elephant Island in 1916 and again in 1925-27 (the "Discovery Expeditions") and on Mawson's BANZAR Expeditions 1929-31.
