Counsel and Advise

TO ALL

BUILDCERS.

For the Choice of their Surveyors, Clarkes of their Works, Bricklayers, Masons, Carpenters, and others, the Workmen therein concerned.

Little Manual which I formerly set forth concerning the three chief Principles of magnificent Building, viz. Solidity, Convenience and ornament, still in the first place note the incongruities committed by many undertakers of Buildings, who both build within.

THE ART OF PAINTING

After the Italian Manner.

With Practical Observations on the Principal Colours.

And Directions how to know a Good Painter.

By John Eliam, Esq.

Printed for D. Brown at the Black-Swan in Fetter-Lane, London.
1. GERBIER, Balthasar. Counsel and Advise to all Builders; for the Choice of their Surveyours, Clarks of their Works, Bricklayers... as also, in respect of their works, materials and rates thereof. 55ff + 110pp + errata leaf. A near fine copy bound in contemporary sheep. Two leaves bound upside down. The Macclesfield copy.

Wing G552; ESTC R16624; Harris 253. This is the first edition, second issue with 40 dedications, whereas the earlier one (Harris 252) contains 39.

Sir Balthasar Gerbier, born c1591 in Middleburg, acquired his artistic training in Germany, and came over to England with the Dutch ambassador in 1616 as an architect, decorator, portraitist and general art adviser. He was engaged by the Duke of Buckingham to advise upon and negotiate the formation of his vast art collections, to decorate his houses, and almost certainly to build York House. After the Duke’s death in 1628, he was naturalised and entered the service of Charles I as an envoy to the Netherlands, a role for which he was knighted in 1638. In addition to practising as an artist, he wrote numerous pamphlets and in 1649 opened an Academy which offered instruction in a variety of subjects from art to courtly manners.

A rare work, plainly written and free from the “rhetorical flourishers” of its predecessors.

> “Take then these instructions... do not reject them because they are not derived from a Stately Fountain; because the Water falls not from the Mouth of a Serpent, the Jaws of a Dragon, or the Nostrils of a Sea-Monster, for he that is dry will be glad to quench his thirst from a Leaden Cistern, or an Earthen Pitcher.”

Elsum provides practical instruction on the importance of sound draughtsmanship, the making and use of grids for squaring up drawings, the variety and use of colour, and the various techniques of oil and dry-painting. He also advises the artist to consider the ‘quality’ of the client and argues that painters should ‘suit their works to the quality of the place and person.’ For the client he provides lists of suitable works for display in libraries, halls, palaces, town-houses, and publick schools.

3. [COLONIA, J.] Dissertation sur un Monument Antique decouvert a Lyon, sur la Montagne de Fourviére, au Mois de Decembre 1704. Avec une grande figure en taille douce. (2) + (14) + 79 + (1)pp., engraved folding plate and title-page woodcut. A little dustiness to the title-page otherwise a very good copy bound in recent plain grey boards. Very slight tear to corner of the title without loss of text.

12mo. Lyon, chez Thomas Amaulry. 1705.
4. NEVE, Richard. The City and Countrey Purchaser, and Builder’s Dictionary: or, the Compleat Builder’s Guide. Shewing the qualities, quantities, proportions, and rates or value of all materials relating to building; with the best method of preparing many of them. The second edition, with additions. (12) + xx + 142ff + (4)pp adverts. Rebound in full speckled calf, blind ruled borders, and spine gilt ruled. Some old light waterstaining and inner hinge of the title-page stained by old paste. Harris 596. 8vo. D. Browne. 1726. £420.00

Harris suggests that the anonymous editor is most probably John Ozell. “To make the dictionary ‘fit for Gentlemen’s Use, as the former edition was for Workmen’, Ozell has carefully corrected Neve’s quotations from Wotton and increased the number of architectural terms....” pp 332.

5. BICKHAM, George. The Universal Penman. Engraved frontispiece, and 212 engraved calligraphic plates. A fine crisp clean copy bound in full contemporary calf with handsome original engraved brass clasps. Expert repairs to the joints and corners. folio. Printed and Sold by H. Overton. 1743.  £2,200.00

The second edition, but the first edition in book form, of the most important calligraphic book of the 18th century. It was first issued to subscribers in fifty-two parts between 1733 and 1741. It was an important source book for the teaching of reading and writing in colonial America, and almost two-thirds of the examples penned by students in the three Boston writing schools between 1748 and 1782 have been traced to the 1743 edition of The Universal Penman. (Ref: E.J. Monaghan. Learning to Read and Write in Colonial America.)
Provenance: On the inner board is a large hand written ownership label: “Miss Mary Kelly ex dono... Mr Richard Greenhill of Ashford in the County of Kent. November the 3rd Day, Anno Dom: 1752.” Richard Greenhill is recorded as being one of the finest provincial clockmakers of the 18th century.

6. SPENCE, Joseph. Polymetis: or, an Enquiry concerning the Agreement between the Works of the Roman Poets, and the remains of the antient artists. Being an attempt to illustrate them mutually from one another. In ten books. First edition. xii + 361pp., engraved portrait frontispiece by Vertue after Isaac Wood, 41 engraved plates (2 double-page, 2 double-page and folding), the majority by Louis Philippe. Boitard. Full contemporary mottled calf, raised and gilt banded spine with red morocco label. Some wear to head and tail of the spine and corners. Some browning to a number of the plates. folio. R. Dodsley. 1747. £495.00

One of the most influential and widely read treatises on art in the 18th century, and an important attempt to remove the barriers between the arts, especially emphasising the close connection between painting and poetry. Handel’s oratorio The Choice of Hercules was adapted from Polymetis by the composer’s regular collaborator, Thomas Morrell; it aided the Greek revival movement towards the end of the 18th century, and later was also read, albeit in an abridged school edition, by Keats providing him with some of his early inspiration.
7. [HOLE, William, Archdeacon of Barnstaple]. The Ornaments of Churches Considered, with a particular view to the late decoration of the Parish Church of St. Margaret Westminster. To which is subjoined, an appendix, containing, the history of the said church; an account of the altar-piece, and stained glass window erected over it; a state of the prosecution it has occasioned; and other papers. (2) + iv + 6 + v-xiv + 15-143 + (1) + 38 + 8pp., half-title., engraved plate. A very good copy bound in full contemporary calf. Head and tail of the gilt spine and corners worn. Lacks the engraved portrait of Speaker Onslow. Scarce. The final 8pp postscript is often lacking.
£160.00

Edited, with an introduction and postscript, by Thomas Wilson, to whom the work is sometimes attributed. An early and important work defending the restoration of Anglican churches, with a very detailed listing of authorities to support the author’s argument that the presence of paintings, sculpture and other imagery in church was acceptable. This was instrumental in removing theological objections from within the church hierarchy; although it was to be another 20 years before the Church gave its blessing to artistic projects within churches.

8. STRANGE, Robert. A Descriptive Catalogue of a Collection of Pictures... to which are added, remarks on the principal painters and their works. With a catalogue of thirty-two drawings, from capital paintings of great masters. Collected and drawn, during a journey of several years in Italy. First edition. (2) + vii + (i) + 173 + (1)pp. A very good large uncut copy bound in 19th century half red morocco by Ramage. Slight chipping to the blank leading edge of the first few leaves. Scarce.
small 8vo. for the Author. 1769.

Robert Strange (1721-1792), engraver and collector. His collection was unusual for the high proportion of works depicting religious subjects, at a time when most collectors exercised caution for the merest suspicion of Catholicism was enough to cause problems. See Pears, Iain. The Discovery of Painting, Yale 1988.
9. [GRAY, Thomas]. A Catalogue of the Antiquities, Houses, Parks, Plantations, Scenes, and Situations in England and Wales, arranged according to the alphabetical order of the several counties. v + (1) + 62pp. A preliminary leaf has a contemporary manuscript note - “writ by Mr Grey, given me by Mr Mason, 1773. Strafford.” Final leaf a little dusty on the verso, and corner torn not affecting the text. 12mo. [1773].

William Mason arranged for this to be privately printed in an edition of just 100 copies. ESTC T30202.

PAT ERSON, Daniel. A New and Accurate Description of all the Direct and Principal Cross Roads in Great Britain. Containing, I. An Alphabetical List of all the Cities, Towns, and remarkable Villages in England and Wales, with their Market-Days, and Counties they are situated in. II. The Direct Roads from London to all the Cities, Borough, Market, and Sea-Port Towns in England and Wales, shewing the Distance from each City, Town, or Village to the next on the same Road, with their Distance from London, and an Account of the remarkable Seats that are situated near the Road. III. The Cross Roads of England and Wales. IV. The Principal Direct and Cross Roads of Scotland. V. The Circuits of the Judges in England. The Whole on a Plan entirely new, and far preferable to any Work of the Kind Extant. The second edition, corrected; with the addition of a map, and other improvements. By Daniel Paterson, Assistant to the Quarter-Master-General of his Majesty’s Forces. London: printed for T. N. Longman, Pater-Noster-Row. viii+ xx index + 184 columns printed two to a page, with a double page engraved map. Lower edge a little close cropped, but only affecting the very bottom of the imprint. 8vo. printed for T. Carnan. 1772.

Two items in one, bound in contemporary calf, expertly rebacked with raised and gilt bands, and corners very neatly repaired.

A wonderful presentation copy of this privately printed rarity, given by the poet William Mason to his close friend Lord Strafford of Wentworth Castle. His letters record visits to the Castle:

“Wakefield, & Wentworth Castle... here the Sun again indulged me, and open’d as beautiful a scene of rich & cultivated country, as (I am told) Yorkshire affords, the water is all artificial, but with an air of nature; much wood; a very good house in the Q: Anne style, w ch is now new-fronting in a far better taste by the present Earl.”
The Straffords were also good friends and neighbours of Walpole at Twickenham; their house faced the river and stood between the church and what is now Orleans House. Horace’s correspondence with the Earl (who died in 1791), was maintained at intervals between 1756 and 1790. He often visited the Castle, making particular note of its qualities in his Observations on Modern Gardening: “If a model is sought of the most perfect task in architecture, where grace softens dignity, and lightness attempers magnificence; where proportion removes every part from peculiar observation, and delicacy of execution recalls every part to notice; where the position is the most happy, and even the colour of the stone the most harmonious, the virtuoso should be directed to the new front of Wentworth Castle; the result of the same elegant judgement that had before distributed so many beauties over that domain; and culled from wood, water, hills, prospects and buildings, a compendium of picturesque nature, improved by the chastity of art.”

In his introductory advertisement Mason writes that “this catalogue was originally drawn up on the blank pages of Kitchen’s English atlas, by a person of too much eminence to be mentioned on so slight occasion... the few copies now printed, are intended to be interleav’d, with a view that those to who they shall be presented, may at their leisure make such short remarks as their own personal knowledge of the several counties enables them to do... [" This mark placed before and place denotes that it is more particularly worthy of notice.”

In this copy Strafford has done exactly this, and added his own ink marks against houses he presumably knew or visited. On several occasions the owner’s name is supplied next to his residence, and there is also one marginal note against an entry in Paterson’s Cross Roads.

The Beinecke, BL, Rothschild (Trinity College Cambridge), McMaster, and Chris Johnson copies are interleaved with blank pages. The Cambridge & Bodleian copies appear not to be interleaved. We can trace no record of another copy with a presentation inscription.

10. SANDBY, PAUL, and CHATELAIN, J.B.C. A Collection of Landskips, and figures etc, on twenty-nine copper-plates designed, etched and engraved by Paul Sandby, and M. Chatlain. They merit a place in the cabinets of the curious and are useful studies to those who would draw landskips with taste and effect. Title and 34 engraved plates on 27 leaves. A very good clean copy in early 19th century half calf, marbled boards, with expert repairs to the spine and corners, and new gilt label. Title page a little dusty at the edges, and with old and faint watercolour splash on the verso. Very scarce. folio. Printed for Robert Sayer. January 12 1773. £1,250.00

Copies of this work are recorded with differing compilations of plates, and we have traced examples with 31 plates on 29 leaves, 27 plates on 27 leaves, and the Yale copy with 30 leaves. Our example has 21 plates by Sandby (more than usually recorded), and 13 by Chatelain, and there are just two dated plates, both by Sandby and dated 1758. The work is unrecorded in ESTC or Copac.

12. DE LA ROCHE, J. Voyage D’Un Amateur Des Arts, en Flandre, dans Les Pays-Bas, en Holland, En France, en Savoye, en Italie, en Suisse, fait dansd les années 1775-76-77-78. Four volumes. 366pp + 1f errata; 459pp; 340pp; 236pp., half-titles., folding table. A fine set bound in full contemporary calf, gilt banded spines with gilt morocco labels, carmine edges, silk markers. Scarce, the first set we have offered for sale. 12mo. Amsterdam. 1783. £495.00

The first edition of this comprehensive guide for artists and travellers on the Grand Tour, written by a former infantry officer, but also variously attributed to M. de La Roque or J. de La Roche. It was edited by Jacques-Joseph Fabry, and actually published in Liege by F.J. Desoer. It details ‘les edifices & les monumens antiques & modernes... les collections de peinture, de sculpture... les bibliothqueus...” as well as natural scenery, and practical advice on hiring horses and mules, guides &c.
13. [BURKE, Edmund]. A Philosophical Inquiry into the Origin of our Ideas of the Sublime and Beautiful. With an introductory discourse concerning taste, and several other additions. x + (6) + 291 + (1)p. A fine copy in full contemporary sprinkled calf, gilt banded spine with green morocco label. Some slight browning to the pastedowns. 8vo. Basil: printed and sold by J.J. Tourneisen. 1792. £280.00

ESTC T42265; Todd 5s. The scarce first English language edition printed abroad. Only 3 copies in the UK, 3 in America (Chicago, Pennsylvania & Virginia), but as to be expected slightly more copies (7) in European libraries.

14. COPPER PLATE MAGAZINE, The., or elegant cabinet of picturesque prints, consisting of sublime and interesting views in Great Britain and Ireland, beautifully engraved by the most eminent artists from the paintings and drawings of the first masters. Volumes III and IV. Engraved title-pages, and 100 engraved plates with descriptive text. Some occasional foxing, but generally clean. Recent half cloth, drab boards. oblong 4to. J. Walker. [1794-1798]. £200.00

15. LEONARDO DA VINCI. A Treatise on Painting... faithfully translated from the original Italian, and digested under proper heads, by John Francis Rigaud. To which is prefixed a new life of the author, drawn up from authentic materials till now inaccessible, by John Sidney Hawkins, Esq. xcv + (1) + 236pp + advert leaf., frontispiece, 22 plates and 20 woodcut figures in the text. Nineteenth century pebble grain cloth, gilt lettered spine. An uncut copy, rather foxed and browned internally, but in good sound state. 8vo. for J. Taylor. 1802. £95.00

16. SHEPARD, Edward (ed). the Most Eminent Painters, from the year 1250, when the art of painting was revived by Cimabue, to the year 1767: abridged from Pilkington. iv + 123 + (3)pp + advert leaf. Contemporary half calf, spine worn, upper board detached, and some foxing to first few pages. Scarce. 8vo. printed for the Author, 1803. £65.00

17. BURKE, Edmund. A Philosophical Enquiry into the Origin of our Ideas of the Sublime and Beautiful. With an introductory discourse concerning taste, and several other additions. vi + (i blank) + (5) + (i blank) + 203pp., frontispiece portrait. Frontispiece foxed, but a very good copy bound in handsome full contemporary tree calf, gilt banded spine with red morocco label. Contemporary signature of Miss Thayer on the front end paper. Todd 5u. 8vo. Montrose. 1803. £160.00

19. HOGARTH, William. The Analysis of Beauty. Written with a view of fixing the fluctuating ideas of taste. Illustrated by engravings. A new edition, printed verbatim from the original work, the pages of which are here retained. (40) + (144)pp., 2 engraved plates. Contemporary dark green cloth, with gilt lettered spine, expertly rejointed. Some foxing and light age browning to the paper. large 8vo. R. Scholey. 1810. £85.00

20. LAPORTE, John. No. I. Of an Entire New Work, Studies of Trees, drawn from nature in the summer of 1813, by J. Laporte, etched in exact imitation of the original drawings, arranged in simple and easy lessons, illustrative of their different characters. Forming a complete collection of examples, to facilitate a correct manner of sketching and drawing, that principal object in landscape. 4 etched plates with multiple details of trees, each with a publication line giving a date of Nov. 1813. Original grey-blue sugar paper printed wrappers, the title taken from the upper wrapper. Rear blank wrapper creased and torn, and the whole at some time folded with a central crease. Some browning mainly to the tissue guards, and edges dusty. oblong folio. J. Laporte, 21 Winchester Row. [Nov. 1813.] £120.00 Unrecorded in Copac, Yale.

signed by Varley, and owned by an early American woman artist

21. VARLEY, JOHN. A Practical Treatise on Perspective. 2ff, text in 4 columns., 1 engraved plate. A very good copy in original sugar paper wrappers, with printed paper label on the upper cover. Some old waterstaining to the upper outer corners. The plate is dated Dec. 1st, 1815, and is engraved by W. Lowry after Varley’s designs. It was printed by J. Booth, Duke-Street, Portland-Place, and is signed ‘J. Varley’ in the lower left hand corner. In the margin is the contemporary name of Miss C. Schetky.” large oblong folio. Published and sold by the Author, 44, Conduit-street, Hanover-square; and by R. Ackermann, 101, Strand. Price 5s. c1815. £495.00

This is the scarce first edition. The work was re-issued as A Practical Treatise on the Art of Drawing in Perspective, which appeared with two plates, published by Sherwood Gilbert and Piper edition with plates dated 1820, but c1829.
Provenance: Caroline Schetky was a daughter of the Scottish musician, Johann Georg Christoph Schetky, and a younger sister of artist, John Christian Schetky. By 1818, she was living in Philadelphia with another brother, the musician, George Schetky.

The initial difficulties she experienced as a woman in gaining access to cultural circles in Philadelphia were described in a letter written to a friend in 1818 (Caroline Schetky to Ana Johnson, August 5, 1818, in Laurence Schetky, p. 200). Rubens Peale invited her to exhibit at his Baltimore Museum in 1822.

Upon her marriage in 1825 to Samuel Richardson of Boston, she moved to that city. Exhibited: PAFA, 1818-26 (miniatures and watercolour landscapes); Baltimore Mus., 1822 (she was invited to exhibit by Rubens Peale); Boston Athenaeum, 1827-41. Sources: G&W; Schetky, The Schetky Family; Vinton, The Richardson Memorial, 125-26; Phila. CD 1820-28; Rutledge, PA; Swan, BA; repro., Analectic Magazine, XIV (1819), frontis. More recently, see Miller, ed. The Peale Family, 230-31 which mentions Schetky’s feeling of isolation in Philadelphia.

22. LODGE, Edmund. Portraits of Illustrious Personages of Great Britain. Engraved from authentic pictures in the galleries of the nobility and the public collections of the country. With biographical and historical memoirs of their lives and actions. First edition. Twelve volumes, with engravings throughout on india paper, comprising 240 biographies and portraits. A superb set bound in full contemporary morocco, with elaborate gilt panels, spines gilt in six compartments, all-edges-gilt, pale yellow endpapers and pastedowns. Ticket of Harding & Prichard, Chester. Some slight foxing, and several covers have some peeling to the surface leather. A very handsome set. 4to. Harding, Mavor and Lepard. 1823. £680.00

An early history of one of the oldest and most important natural history museums of the world and its associated botanical gardens. It was founded by Louis XIII in 1635, and Deleuze provides a detailed history of the museum including accounts of the various departments including the cabinets of geology, mineralogy, mammals, birds, etc. A descriptive list of curators and foreign correspondents in 1822 and a bibliographical list of teachers and voyagers connected with the Museum is also included.

Flaxman’s engraved title and 110 illustrations were originally published in an authorised edition in London in 1807. The engravings had been completed in 1793, but were not published, as Nancy Flaxman told William Hayley, because of the selfishness of the man who had commissioned them, Thomas Hope. Pistrucci extended the series by a further 10 plates. According to the engraved preface in Italian and French by Antoine Fortuna Stella, the work was originally sold in ‘cahiers de six estampes’, with a promise that if the work was successful it would be followed by the Iliade.

The Royal Museum of Naples

25. GARGIULO, Raffaele. Raccolta de Monumenti piu Interessanti del R.Museo Borbonico e di varie Collezioni Private. First edition. Engraved title-page, 160 engraved plates and with a contemporary 8 page manuscript index to the plates bound in at the end. A very good clean copy bound in contemporary half gilt vellum, marbled boards. Slight chip to the label and a little discolouration as usual to the vellum. With the armorial bookplate of the Earl of Ranfurly, and the family ownership signature of M.J. Northland, Rome, 1834. 4to. Napoli. 1825. £395.00

The first edition of this collection of engravings of objects in the Royal Museum of Naples and several other private collections. It includes sculptures, urns, vases, friezes, &c.
26. HIORT, John William. A Practical Treatise of the Construction of Chimneys, Containing an Examination of the Common Mode in Which They Are Built; with an accurate description of the newly-invented tunnel. vii + (i) + 46 + 46* + (3) + 49-58 + (2)pp., 4 folding coloured lithograph plates. (bound with...) Supplement to Mr Hiort’s Treatise on the Architectural Construction of Chimneys, containing Hints to Builders... and other matters interesting to persons who contemplate building or altering chimneys. 15 + (1)pp. A very good copy bound in recent half calf, retaining the original marbled paper boards. Signed by the author on the verso of the first title-page.

large 8vo. for the Author. 1826. £850.00

27. [JONES, William]. Poikilographia, or Various Specimens of Ornamental Penmanship. Comprising Twenty Two Different Alphabets. Frontispiece portrait, engraved title-page, engraved introduction leaf, and 20 engraved plates. Contemporary half calf, marbled boards, paper label. Head and tail of the spine and corners neatly repaired. Marbled boards and paper label rather rubbed, some foxing throughout, but a scarce and attractive publication. With a hand-written note pasted onto the inner board, dated 1846, presenting this copy to Master John Hall from his Grand Uncle Andrew Hall.

folio. W. Jones... sold by W. Alexander, Engraver. 50, Strand. [1827]. £320.00

There are a number of examples of micro-engraving hidden within the plates; The Lord’s Prayer is engraved on a quarter inch square tablet; in the Decalogue plate, the complete text of the ten commandments form a Hebrew word.
28. LANZI, A.L. The History of Painting in Italy, from the period of the revival of the fine arts to the end of the eighteenth century: translated... by Thomas Roscoe. Six volumes. A very good set bound in contemporary olive green half calf, gilt spines with raised bands, marbled boards. Neatly written contemporary ownership name at the head of the first title-page, R.L. Newton, 1828, and recent name on the front end paper. The first comprehensive history of Italian painting in English.
8vo. W. Simpkin. 1828. £295.00

Lanzi (1732-1810), gained widespread reputation by his history of modern Italian painting (Storia pittorica dell’ Italia dal risorgimento delle belle arti fin presso al fine del XVIII secolo, 3 vols., Bassano, 1795-96). This work was translated into German, French, and English (twice by Roscoe, London, 1828, and by Evans, abridged, London, 1831). Lanzi describes the Schools of Art and their development, and opens his narration with the Florentine artists of the thirteenth century, whom he looks upon as the preservers and revivers of art in Italy.

8vo. Boston: Frederic S. Hill. 1831. £75.00

The preface is signed T, this being Isaac Taylor, and the work was first published in London in 1831. This American edition is unrecorded by Copac.

30. MAINWARING, Rowland. Instructive Gleanings, Moral and Scientific, from the best writers, on painting and drawing; arranged as a book of reference to the pupil and amateur; and containing much information for professional students. (8) + viii + 169pp., lithograph portrait frontispiece with pink tissue guard. A good uncut copy bound in original linen backed boards with paper spine label. Some foxing, particularly to the frontispiece. Scarce. Later ownership inscription.
8vo. Meyler. Bath. 1832. £220.00

The ‘gleanings, addressed ‘to my brother officers’, are taken from Varley, Fuseli, Opie, Richardson, Dagley, Shee, Reynolds, Barry, Gilpin, Hassell, Pinnock, & Burnet.
the first gallery of national history in the country

31. LOCKER, Edward Hawke. Memoirs of Celebrated Naval Commanders, illustrated by engravings from original pictures in the Naval Gallery of Greenwich Hospital. 22 engraved plates, (18 of which depict portraits of naval commanders including Admiral Byng and Captain Cook), and 4 depict historic sea battles including the Battle of the Nile. The plates are in proof state on india paper, and each is accompanied by an individually paginated chapter of text. Tipped in is an additional Memoir of Sir Edward Berry, dated 1831, and an engraved portrait of Locker is loosely inserted. A very good copy in full contemporary dark green morocco, with double blind ruled borders and small blind floral cornerpiece motifs. Raised bands, and gilt lettered spine. Alled edges gilt, silk marker. Recent small private bookplate. Some foxing mainly to the blank margins of the plates, the india paper images mainly being unaffected. 4to. Harding & Leppard. 1832. £260.00

Locker promoted the Naval Gallery as a ‘National Depository’ and attempted to construct a national naval narrative in the displays. Paintings were hung in chronological sequence with portraits of commanders displayed in seniority of rank besides paintings of events in their careers, and adjacent to cases of personal relics. In effect, the Naval Gallery was the first gallery of national history in the country, and one of only three major art collections in the vicinity of London open to the public.

The Royal Watercolour Society was founded as the Society of Painters in Water Colours in 1804 by William Frederick Wells and its original membership was: William Sawrey Gilpin, Robert Hills, John Claude Nattes, John Varley, Cornelius Varley, Francis Nicholson, Samuel Shelley, William Henry Pyne and Nicholas Pocock. The members seceded from the Royal Academy where they felt that their work commanded insufficient respect and attention. In 1812, the Society reformed as the Society of Painters in Oil and Watercolours, reverting to its original name in 1820. The preface, initialled J.M., is most probably written by James Morrison (1790-1857), the owner of the original picture of Venice by Samuel Prout, which forms the opening engraving to this work.

The ‘Gallery’ appears to have been intended to be issued in parts, as the Gentleman’s Magazine prints a very favourable review in 1831 of the first part, containing just the first three plates in this present volume. The plates are after Samuel Prout, William Hunt, J. Stephanoff, J. F. Lewis, David Cox, G. F. Robson, Copley Fielding, P. Dewint, J. D. Harding, T. M. Wright, G. Barret, J. S. Cotman, W. Evans, Robert Hills, George Cattermole, Charles Wild and Joshua Cristall.
33. WHITTOCK, NATHANIEL. The Youth’s New London Self-Instructing Drawing Book; containing a series of progressive lessons, with instructions for drawing rural scenery, architecture, the human figure, animals, &c. (2) + 108pp., 104 plates, mainly uncoloured lithographs, some in soft-ground etching. Recent calf backed marbled boards, gilt spine label. Some foxing and browning to the plates but a good sound copy. Expert marginal repairs to the first two leaves. Archer 344.1. oblong 8vo. G. Virtue. 1833. £280.00

34. FIELD, George. Chromatography; or, a treatise on colours and pigments, and of their powers in painting, &c. First edition. xix + (1 blank) + 276pp., hand-coloured engraved frontispiece of the chromatic scale, and one engraved plate. Tipped in at the front is a subscription flyer for Field’s Elements of Anological Philosophy. A good copy in 19th century diced cloth, neatly rebacked, gilt label, and corners expertly repaired. Some darkening to the cloth, internally very clean. 4to. Charles Tilt... 1835. £595.00

An important influence on Turner who subscribed to this work.
35. THAMES TUNNEL. An Explanation of the Works of the Tunnel under the Thames from Rotherhithe to Wapping. First edition. 16pp + 8ff [numbered 17-24, and printed on rectos only]. 8 aquatint plates, three of which are folding, one with an overlay, and a folding map. Original drab paper wrappers, with engraved pink label ‘Thames Tunnel’ on the upper cover. A very good copy, foot of the backstrip expertly repaired, and slight chip to the upper outer corner of the cover. Title page a little dusted. Pencil name and address on the title-page and upper cover, of C. Du Bois, London Oct 22nd 1836, No 31 Arundel Street, Strand.”

First published in 1836, following the resumption of tunnelling in 1835 after a seven year suspension. The text was written by Sir Marc Brunel himself, and includes a brief history of the Thames Tunnel project from its inception in 1824, together with detailed descriptions of the innovative tunnelling techniques employed on its construction. The fine engraved plates include a folding longitudinal view showing progress on the tunnel to date (930 ft), a tinted aquatint of the gas-lit western archway, with the figures of Sir Marc Brunel, Isambard Kingdom Brunel, Richard Beamish, and William Gravatt in the foreground, and a folding plate with a fine engraved isometric view of a section of the tunnelling shield by Beamish.

At the age of 21 Carter, a silk weaver, fell 40 feet from a tree and was paralysed. “Having accidentally learned that a young woman who had lost the use of her hands had learned to draw with her mouth, he resolved if possible to turn his artistic gifts to account in a similar way. By dogged perseverance he mastered all the technicalities of drawing without personal instruction, and acquired such proficiency as would have done credit to him even had he possessed the use of his hands. He devoted himself chiefly to line-drawing, and, by holding the pencil or brush between his teeth, was able to produce the most accurate and delicate strokes. With the help of an attendant to supply his materials, he produced drawings of great beauty and of thorough artistic finish in every detail.” The frontispiece depicts him at work, and also illustrated his desk and pencils. This is a greatly enlarged edition, with 18 additional plates.

“In preparing for the press a new edition... so long wanted, I have endeavoured to consider what I believe would have been the desire of my late friend. That he himself contemplated a new issue of the work is evident from the fact that he had prepared several steel plates to take the place of the less certain and satisfactory illustrations on stone, and with litho-tint. These I have introduced. The text remains intact.”

George Alfred Rogers (1837-1897) was a woodcarver like his father. He lived at 29 Maddox Street in London for many years where he had a studio and collection of many works of famous woodcarvers, including his father’s. His father, William Gibbs Rogers (1792 - 1875) was an eminent wood carver of 19th century England. His work was often compared to that of Grinling Gibbons and devoted his studies to the works of Gibbons and thoroughly mastered that carver’s art to the point where only an experienced eye could spot a difference. In his senior years, he devised a successful method of preserving Gibbons’ carvings from the ravages of worms and age.

Camille Mauclair, (pseudonym of Séverin Faust) (1872–1945). John Rewald (The History of Impressionism, 1946, 4th edn., 1973) writes of him: ‘As art critic of the Mercure de France [from 1892] he had published many articles of a pretentious character, launching insolent attacks on all the great contemporary painters. He saw in neo-impressionism a trifling technique, referred to Gauguin’s art as colonial, spoke of the gangsterism of Lautrec, poured out his scorn for Cézanne, and treated Pissarro with contempt … But when the painters were finally rewarded with recognition, and when most of those he slandered had died, Mauclair did not scruple to add his voice to the general expressions of admiration. It must be admitted, however, that he remained at least faithful to his opinions concerning Cézanne and never ceased to consider him a poor provincial artist stricken with incompetence and ambition … Under the Vichy government, Mauclair, once more a turncoat, wrote a book on the Jews in art, denouncing Pissarro among others. After the liberation of France, he was condemned to “national unworthiness.”’ Mauclair’s The French Impressionists (1903) was the first book on the movement to appear in English (this translation preceded the French edition — L’Impressionnisme, son histoire, son esthétique, ses maîtres, 1904).

Rosenberg (1881-1947) replaced Kahnweiler as the principal dealer involved in Cubism, and his publications were issued from his gallery, De L’Effort Moderne. He was very influential in attempting to cultivate and market a Cubist group style, and to retrieve Cubism from its prewar associations with an anarchic, bohemian avant-garde and to bring it into the fold of the French tradition. In a word, Cubism had become the legitimate cultural property of Right Bank society.
