   FIRST RARE EDITION, issued the simultaneously with that of Lyon, one of the first French books on tea, coffee and chocolate. The text is divided into four parts, of which the first three are focused respectively on tea, coffee and chocolate, the fourth contains an explanation of the of the images and rare catalog of "marchandises qui sont actuellement dispensées par les artistes du laboratoire royal des Quatre-Nations" ("goods that are currently dispensed by the artist of the Royal Laboratory of the Four Nations").
   Some light dampstaining.
13. BONOMO, Gabriele (1694-1760).
Automatum inaequale sive Horologium antiquum automatis animatum.
Palermo, Francesco Valenza, 1747.
8vo (210 x 148mm).
€ 1,200
Modern quarter calf over paper boards.
(8), 122 and 15 engraved folding plates.
FIRST RARE EDITION of this description of a mechanical clock. Bonomo’s clock took into account the variation of the length of the days during the calendar year and the different hours that formed each day. It is in this treatise that the author published his discoveries for the first time.
First leaves remargined, occasional faint soling.
Provenance: deleted title stamp.

14. BORDONE, Benedetto (1460-1531).
Isolario di Benedetto Bordone.
Folio (mm 302x230).
€ 11,000
Contemporary limp vellum lately remounted with new endpapers.
FIRST ALDINE EDITION, following the two Zappino editions (1528 and 1534) using the same woodblocks. Bordone’s Isolario is a fine example of this atlas describing the islands of the world, following the tradition of the Mediterranean island book, but expanded to include the World.
The first 4 leaves has a large and professionally repaired tear, same goes for leaves from 6 to 10 with handwritten integrations. One or two little worm holes through the volume.
Provenance: Private collection’s stamp.
Cfr. European Americana 547/2; Harrisse Bav 275.

15. BOSCHINI, Marco (1613-1678).

Palermo, Alphonso dell’Isola, 1642.
4to (178 x 133mm).
€ 1.100

Modern boards, new endpapers.
(10), 114, (2); title within woodcut border and arms of Cardinal Giovanni Doria, one woodcut plate, 8 illustrations of which 2 full-page.
FIRST AND ONLY EDITION. The plate depicts an armillary sphere and the astronomical illustrations show amongst others eclipses of the sun and moon.
Margins closely shaved, causing a partial loss of title border, border of armillary sphere and some shoulder notes, margins of last few pages a little frayed, lightly waterstained throughout.
Cfr. BL, 17th cent. Italian books 266; Poggendorff I, 482; Riccardi I/1, 380.
25. DESCARTES, René (1596-1650).
De homine figuris. Translated from French into Latin by Florentius Schuyjl.
Leiden, Petrus Leffen and F. Moyardus, 1662.
4to (197 x 154mm).
First edition of the first European textbook of physiology. The work was based upon Descartes' concept of "l'homme machine", an automaton constructed by God to approximate real men as closely as possible. (Norman, I 627). Occasional light browning and top margin of title lightly soiled, otherwise nice copy.
Cfr. Garrison and Morton, 574; Griolier Medicine, 31.

26. DESCARTES, René (1596-1650).
De homine figuris. Translated from French into Latin by Florentius Schuyjl.
Leiden, Petrus Leffen and F. Moyardus, 1662.
4to (197 x 154mm).

Contemporary limp vellum (stained, some damage at fore-edge, lacks front free endpaper), (16), 534, (55), 1 bl.; title printed in red and black with printer's device, woodcut portrait of the author on verso, numerous woodcut illustrations.
First German edition, first published in 1586 in Vico Equense. The work is divided into four books all dedicated to physiognomy, the non-scientific theory according to which physical features can deduce the moral and psychological characteristics of man, with dissertations on "sympathy" as defined by the author, the occult relationships that bind men to animals.
Provenance: Gaetano della Somaglia (inscription on pastedown).
Cfr. Adams, P-1925; NLM Durling, 3722; Welcomc, l-5197.

27. DESCARTES, René (1596-1650).
De homine figuris. Translated from French into Latin by Florentius Schuyjl.
Leiden, Petrus Leffen and F. Moyardus, 1662.
4to (197 x 154mm).

Contemporary mottled calf, spine gilt (covers a little chipped).
(16), 260, 31, bl., 30; woodcut title vignette, numerous woodcut illustrations, several full-page.
First edition, second issue with cancelled title, of this posthumously published work of the author's youth. "Descartes's first attempt to explain the formation of the physical world was composed during the 1630s but suppressed, like L'homme, after Galileo's condemnation" (Norman).
Light browning at start, full-page illustrations slightly cropped, P1r and P5r soiled.
Provenance: Ballard (signature on title).
Cfr. Guibert pp. 211-213; Honeyman 868; Norman 629 (later issue, with Girard's imprint); Tchemerzine IV, p.311 (imprint b).

28. EDWARDS, George (1694-1773).
Gleanings of Natural History, Part I-III (Same title in French) et traduit de l'Anglois par J. du Plessis (for the volumes I and II), Edmond Barker (for the volume III).
London, printed for the author, at the Royal College of Physicians, 1758-1760-1764.
3 volumes, 4to (mm 283x225).

Nine teenth century morocco binding gilt.
A total of 152 hand-coloured engraved plates.

Venice, S. Coleti, 1721.

12° (165 x 90mm).

Modern pasteboard, lightly soiled.
(8), 297, (7); folding engraved map of Yemen, two folding engraved plates.
FIRST ITALIAN EDITION, the first of 1715 in Paris. The work describes two explorations from 1708 to 1713 in Arabia by French explorers. The second journey is based on different relationships that aimed to promote trade with Yemen, in particular the author investigated how the French could buy coffee in that country. This explains why in volume there is a large section dedicated to the description of coffee, its pine wood, flowers and fruits: probably the first accurate monographic description on the plantations and trade in coffee in Arabia. Some spotting and marginal staining.

Prima parte dello Specchio del Mare.
Genoa, per Gerolamo Marino e Benedetto Celle, 1664.
Folio (mm 417x275).

FIRST EDITION of one of the earliest Italian-printed nautical atlases. Levanto’s atlas is a close copy of Pieter Goos's Zee-spiegel of 1662, the text on the charts being a direct translation into Italian from the Dutch. Certain of Levanto’s plates were used by Coronelli in editions of his Atlante Veneto from 1696 onwards, and also in a new edition of the present work, bearing the same title, but under Coronelli’s imprint of 1698, the text and plates essentially unchanged. Only this, the first part, was ever published. Good condition, vellum slightly soiled. Plate 16 trimmed at the upper margin. End paper repaired.

Cyclometria ex lunulis reciprocè demonstrate.
Copenhagen, Henrich Waldkirch, 1612.
4to (191 x 150mm).

FIRST EDITION, RARE. Longomontanus, a Danish astronomer and astrologer, is best known for his association with and published support of Tycho Brahe. In addition to his astronomical interests, Severin also displayed considerable enthusiasm for pure mathematics, but with notably less success. Concerned principally with the quadrature of the circle, he believed that he had solved the problem with a precise evaluation of pi as equal to 78/43 root of 3" (DSB). Brownded throughout.

€ 550

17th-century calf, spine gilt with morocco lettering-piece (foot of spine and leather at bottom of upper gojoint a little chipped, top fore-edge of front cover lightly waterstained and rubbed).
1bl., 258 (i.e. 253), (8), 1bl.; title printed in red and black, large woodcut device on title, woodcut head- and tailpieces.
Second edition, the first printed in 1591, of this attack on the “superstitions arts”, in other words magic, dream interpretation, and astrology by a Spanish Jesuit philosopher.
Some light waterstaining, a little light browning and spotting, a few upper margins closely shaved.
Provenance: D. Luigi Sylva (stamp on title).

PICO DELLA MIRANDOLA, Giovanni (1463-1494).
ARCANEGO, [PAGANIN] da Borgonuovo (secolo XVI); Cabalistarum selectiora, obscurioraque dogmata.
Venezia, apud Franciscus Franciscum Senensem, 1569.
Small 8vo (mm 143x95). € 4.000
Contemporary vellum, gilt spine and red edges. (28), 219, without final blank. Woodcut on title, woodcut initials and head- and tailpieces.
RARE FIRST EDITION 'de la plus insigne rareté'. Pico's work on the Cabala, it contains various passages on the hierarchies of angels and the soul as a source of life; it questions why the moon is considered a magic planet, it discusses demons taking possession of animals during the night and the reason why light is their main enemy. A few pages shaved with minor loss, some light staining to bottom margin, occasional light browning and spotting from 97 to 110. Otherwise good condition.
Provenance: John Brande Morris (inscription on front endpaper dated 1634) — J.S. (book ticket) — early ink and later pencil annotations.

Argentorati, Edited by Matthias Schuerer, printed by Johann Knobloch, 1506-1507.
Folio (mm 275x200). € 2.300
Modern binding reusing old vellum, new endpapers.
FIRST EDITION. In his attack on astrology, Pico continues his uncle's great work, and includes some of his letters here. The edition is found gathered in various sequences; this copy agrees with that at Vienna (except for the placement of the errata) and differs from Adams. The early foliation indicates it was previously bound in another order.
Occasional spotting or browning, a few text corrections, wormtrack in two quires, reducing to small wormhole in subsequent quires.
Provenance: early 16th-century annotations correcting against the printed errata.

UBERTI, Fazio (d. after 1367).
Opera...chiamato Ditta Mundi. Vuolgare.
[Venice, Christoforo di Pensa for Lucantonio Giunta, 4 September 1501].
8vo (200 x 128mm).

Modern wrappers.
267, without final blank, Giunta device on title.
Second rare edition of this long poem in “terza rima”, usually known as the “Dittamondo” or “Dicta mundi”.
It’s considered an imitation of Dante in “the details and the invectives”, the poet undertaking an extensive journey of Europe, Egypt and the Holy Land under the guidance of Solino, an ancient geographer. The work was left unfinished, stopping in the middle of Book VI without the promised section on Asia.
Title and H3v lightly soiled, some light marginal soiling elsewhere, some upper margins close cut, &3-6 browned, H3 with hole affecting one letter recto and verso.
Provenance: occasional annotations in an early hand.

Contemporary limp vellum (rebacked, lacking ties).
(10), 108, (2), 2 woodcuts to be used as volvelles printed on one leaf, errata at end.
FIRST EDITION of this early mathematical and astronomical work.
Good condition, just occasional spotting or light browning
Provenance: Allerbi Denserii, Treviso (manuscript bookplate) — erased inscription of a Jesuit library on title.

79.
TIENE, Gaetano (1387-1465).
Super libros de anima.
Venice, Gregorius de Gregoriis, January 1505.
Folio (276 x 202mm).

Modern vellum-backed boards (sides lightly spotted).
113 numbered leaves, lacks the final blank T6.
Printed in double column, 2 large astronomical woodcuts, diagrams, woodcut initials.
Rare and beautiful edition of this commentary on Aristotle’s De Anima, variant B.
Light worming in most lower margins, faint waterstaining in a few margins, stronger in last c.
30 leaves, occasional lightly spotting.
Provenance: “Mihi est Bernardini Grotta” (inscription on verso of title).
