The Alps Described and Painted
With 70 Impressive Colourplates
An Uncommonly Nice Copy, Bright and Fresh

3 [Alps]; Conway, Martin. THE ALPS Described by Martin Conway & Painted by A. D. McCormick (London: Adam and Charles Black, 1904) First edition. Beautifully illustrated with 70 fine colourplates from the watercolour paintings of A. D. McCormick. Large 8vo, in the publisher’s original mossy blue-green cloth impressively decorated with an Alpine motif of snow clad peaks and edelweiss in white, yellow and chartreuse and with lettering in gilt on both upper cover and spine, t.e.g. x, 294, 4 (ads) pp. A lovely copy, the decorated cloth in fine condition with bright gilt and no fading, text block sound, the paper very fresh and clean.
A MOST BEAUTIFUL AND IMPRESSIVE ENTREE IN THE BLACK TRAVEL SERIES OF BOOKS AND A RARELY SEEN ONE AS WELL. It is especially so in such lovely condition as this copy, which is fresh and fine.
The author, Sir Martin Conway, was an expert English mountaineer who had made expeditions in Europe, South America and in the Himalayas; where he broke a world altitude record upon reaching 23,000 feet. His experience in the Alps was extensive. He was president of the Alpine Club from 1902 to 1904 and became the first president of The Alpine Ski Club at its inaugural meeting in 1908. Much of the information provided here was accumulated while traveling the Alps from end to end.

The artist, Arthur David McCormick was also no stranger to mountaineering. From 1892–1893 he was the official artist on Sir Martin Conway’s expedition to the Karakoram subrange of the Himalayas and in 1895 served as artist for Clinton T. Dent’s expedition to the Caucasus Mountains. For his work on these and other expeditions he was made Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society. Neate 181. DNB.

Eyes on Russia

With 40 Fine Photographs of the Soviet Union

FIRST EDITION, SIGNED BY ONE OF AMERICA’S LEADING DOCUMENTARY PHOTOGRAPHERS. She is best known as the first foreign photographer permitted to take pictures of the Soviet five-year plan, which provided the contents of this, her first book. She spent five weeks in Soviet Russia with the cooperation of the authorities.

“Here are photographs that are more than camera reproductions of the physical appearance of things. They have the breath of life and drama in them. Tolstoy and Ghandi may damn the machine as a devourer of spiritual virtues, as a sort of modern Antichrist, laying waste to the soul of man. But to Miss Bourke-White the machine is a noble and wondrous creation, an object of beauty and grandeur. It is because of her love of the machine that her Russian photographs are so impressive, for Russians too love the machine...” - Maurice Hindus.

Robert Burns’ Poetry, Correspondence, and Songs
A Highly Decorated Two Volume Set - Glasgow - 1861
With Stunning Engravings of Scottish Landscapes and Portraits

9 Burns, Robert. THE WORKS OF ROBERT BURNS with A Complete Life of the Poet, and an Essay on His Genius and Character, by Professor Wilson, and Numerous Notes, Annotations, and Appendices. (Glasgow: Blackie and Son, 1861 ) 2 volumes. First edition thus. Embellished by an extensive series of 46 finely engraved portraits and landscape illustrations by various artists throughout, two plates of Burns’ handwriting, engraved title-pages, and engraved portraits of Burns opposite title-pages of each volume. 4to, three-quarter polished green calf over light-green boards. Elaborately gilt tooled spine panels between raised bands gilt stopped, lettered and numbered in gilt on contrasting red and black morocco labels within compartments of the spine, marbled endpapers and edges. ccxxvi, iv, 149; xiv, facsimile of Burns’ hand writing, 410. A lightly mellowed, but lovely set, beautifully preserved and formatted for ease in reading. The fine engraved plates are, but for some light foxing primarily to the borders on a few, in generally excellent condition.

A FINE COLLECTION OF THE BEST WORK OF ROBERT BURNS. A comprehensive 2 volume set containing long sections “On The Genius and Life of Burns” by Wilson, followed by “Poems Written in Memory of Burns”, The Poetical Works of Burns, The Songs, Correspondence, and Old Ballads. Each page is formatted with 2 columns and bordered with decorative lines and flourishes. The illustrations are a collection of landscapes and portraits drawn from an important published work, “The Land of Burns” and serve to introduce the reader to the localities expressed in the Life and Works. These profuse and wonderfully executed illustrations allow us to partake of the picturesque Scottish Countryside of the 18th century while reading Burns’s time-honored poems, “including views of the ‘banks and bracs’ of the sweetest streams and noblest rivers of the land; the Doon, the Ayr, the Lugar, the Giron, the Irvine, the Afton,...etc.”-Preface.

Burns, a ploughman poet, to this day ranks high among the poets of Greater Britain. Whether employing his faultless 18th century English or his native Scots dialect, his writings speak to us eloquently. “His finest work springs from his own soil, from his compassionate and generous nature, and from the Scots’ poetic tradition...He employed the Scottish vernacular with great skill and range...he was in direct contact with its source and the themes of Scots rural life provided an inexhaustible field for poetic expression.”-Michael Stapleton. This handsome set offers us the full range of Burns’ writings accompanied by exquisite illustrations.

George Washington Cable’s The Cavalier - First Edition
Inscribed by Him to a Great Actor of the Day
Signed and Dated - November 1901 in the Year of Publication

10 Cable, George Washington. THE CAVALIER (New York: Charles Scribner’s Sons, 1901) First Edition. INSCRIBED PRESENTATION COPY, inscribed to America’s premier actor of the period, Joseph Jefferson, “To Dear Mr.Joseph Jefferson; from one of his innumerable lovers. Yours Truly G.W.Cable Northampton, Mass.Nov.1901”. Blanck’s first issue with “city-bird” on line 8, page 34 and other points. With frontispiece and 7 full-page illustrations by Howard Chandler Christy. 8vo, rebound, but preserving the original cloth binding which is bound in, at an early date in three-quarter crimson calf over colourful paper-covered boards, the spine with gilt decorated compartments separated by gilt ruled raised bands, two green morocco labels gilt lettered and tooled, marbled endpapers, silk ribbon marker, e.g. vi, [2], 311 pp. A fine attractive copy, the text still quite fresh and bright and with the original decorated cloth preserved within, the binding, likely done for Mr. Jefferson, solid and attractive, the spine toned from crimson to coral, as is typical with red dyes of the period and with some minor edge rubbing.

FIRST EDITION AND A RARE INSCRIBED COPY OF CABLE’S FAMOUS CIVIL WAR ROMANCE PRESENTED TO ONE OF AMERICA’S MOST ACCLAIMED ACTORS OF THE TIME. Joseph Jefferson one of the most famous of all 19th century American comedians. He was particularly well known for his portrayal of Rip Van Winkle, first on the stage, and later reprising the role in several silent film adaptations. Through his appearances in the latter, he is believed to be the earliest born actor to appear in film. Jefferson built a home in 1869 in New Iberia, Louisiana, which is likely where he became associated with Louisiana’s native author Mr. Cable.

Cable’s best-selling lively story of love and adventure in the days of the Civil WarCable’s was a long and much interrupted task. He began the work in 1893, but did not finish it until 1900. But patience is a virtue, and when finally published, the book met with tremendous success. It is the story of Richard Thorndyke Smith, a young soldier in the Southern army, who provides the reader with his personal reminiscences.

Harry Clarke’s Illustrated Tales of Mystery and Imagination

A Stunning Interpretation of Poe’s Classic Writing

The True and Most Rare of the First Editions Offered

12 [Clarke, illus.] Poe, Edgar Allan. TALES OF MYSTERY AND IMAGINATION (London: George G. Harrap & Co. Limited, 1919) Very scarce, first edition DELUXE ISSUE ON FINE HANDMADE PAPER. Limited issue of only 170 copies SIGNED AND NUMBERED BY HARRY CLARKE. With 24 stunning full page black and white plates by Harry Clarke and with a profusion of very fine Clarke designed head and tail-pieces throughout. Large, thick 4to, in the publisher’s best deluxe binding of full vellum, the upper board decorated in gilt from designs by Harry Clarke, the spine gilt lettered, top edge gilt, others untrimmed. 383 pp. A very fine and beautiful copy, still partially unopened, the text bright and the vellum unusually fresh and clean.

THE RARE DELUXE EDITION OF ONLY 170 SIGNED AND NUMBERED COPIES. Perhaps the most perfect edition of Edgar Allen Poe’s TALES OF MYSTERY AND IMAGINATION. Clarke’s stunning black and white plates utilize dramatic wide areas of black with intricate areas of white appearing nearly scratched out. The effect at once conveys both the beauty and horror unique to Poe’s writing and evokes the dense spiritual qualities of the exquisite text. A wonderful marriage of artist and writer and “probably the ideal interpreter of Edgar Allan Poe.” (Bowe, 53)

There are twenty-nine tales including “The Pit and the Pendulum”, “The Murders in the Rue Morgue”, “The Fall of the House of Usher”, and “The Descent into the Maelstrom.”

A Very Nice Copy of Detmold’s Best Work
The Fables of Aesop - Published London - 1909
Beautifully Illustrated with Tipped-In Colourplates

A VERY PLEASING COPY AND QUITE SCARCE IN THIS CONDITION. These illustrations represent, in our opinion, Detmold’s very best work. Their grace and sensitivity reflect a certain Eastern sensibility. The artist’s powers in the delicate communication of nature’s spirit are exemplified by these wonderful paintings, rich with the wide variety of the colours in the spectrum.

A Scarce E.J. Detmold Illustrated First Edition - ca. 1921
Our Little Neighbors - Animals of the Farm & Woodlands
With Fine Coloured Plates in the Artist’s Best Style

mellowed and rubbed at the edges or corners, but the gilt still very bright and the pastedown quite fine.

THE QUITE ELLUSIVE FIRST EDITION IN THE MORE ATTRACTIVE OF THE BINDING STATES. A very uncommon title by Detmold indeed, and an exquisite collection of his animal illustrations. The plates include, The Superior Cat, Mrs. Hen and Her Family, The Fairy Squirrel and Mice, Plain and Fancy. Eleven farm and woodland friends are described and painted in total making this book a lovely addition to a children’s illustrated library. These bright paintings of baby animals are some of Detmold’s most endearing and timeless illustrations.

Cervantes’ Classic ‘Don Quixote’
With the Heroic Illustrations of Gustave Doré

17  [Doré, illus.] Cervantes Saavedra, Miguel. THE HISTORY OF DON QUIXOTE. The Text Edited by J. W. Clark and A Biographical Notice of Cervantes, by T. Teignmouth Shore (London: Cassell, Petter, and Galpin, [c. 1870]) A very early issue of this wonderfully illustrated Cervantes. With 118 spectacular illustrations by by Gustave Doré. Royal 4to (12.25 x 9.75 inches approx.), in deluxe three-quarter dark-brown polished calf over black textured boards, the spine with gilt tooled wide bands separating compartments featuring large central gilt tooled devices, one compartment gilt lettered, all edges gilt. xxviii, 737. A tight and clean copy, the binding with a bit of age wear, the back sometime skillfully restored to style with the original spinal panel laid down.

A HANDSOMELY BOUND COPY. Gustave Doré was one of the greatest illustrators of his day. He was born in Strassburg in 1832. In 1848, he moved to Paris where “his facility as a draughtsman was extraordinary.” He was a prolific worker and his subjects were usually religious or historical. He died in January of 1883.

His grand and magnificent style is a perfect complement for Cervantes heroic tale. This great tome is one of our favorite printings of the Spanish classic and, because of the weight of the text block, is usually found broken and loose. This copy is solid and sturdy. A great complement to any fine library and a must for the collector of 19th century illustrated books.

One of Doré’s Best Illustrated Books

Fables de La Fontaine - Paris -1868

A Very Fine Copy Handsomely Bound and Decorated

18  [Doré, Illus.] La Fontaine, Jean de. FABLES DE LA FONTAINE AVEC LES DESSINS DE GUSTAVE DORE (Paris: Librairie de L. Hachette et Cie, 1868) First Edition Illustrated by Gustave Doré; portrait and 84 full-page illustrations; 248 finely engraved and fully decorative head and tailpiece pictorial designs throughout. Double plates at 35, 65, 93,117, 385, 395, 455 and 741. Folio, in a French binding of crimson cloth signed Hachette at the foot of the spine, the spine lettered in gilt within compartments separated by blind tooled banding. The upper cover decorated in all over pictorial designs and lettering gilt, and the rear cover in blind. A very attractive bindings, the book showing some slight cracking to the upper hinge running for approximately 2.5 inches. Internally there is some evidence of water staining to the edges of a some gatherings at the beginning of the volume and there is some intermittent, but not terribly obtrusive foxing to a number of the pages.

A RARE AND IMPORTANT BOOK AND ONE OF DORE’S BEST. THIS IS THE TRUE FIRST EDITION. With his full-page engravings Gustave Doré does his best work with great dramatic flare. The countless smaller illustrations round out the book and make it a truly outstanding publishing endeavor.

La Fontaine was famously known as one of the important literary group of the Rue du Vieux Colombier which included Racine, Boileau and Moliere. By the 1680s, he was known as one of the first men of letters in France. The FABLES were especially praised by well-known critics and it were well received by the general public. This issuance represents a very lovely printing of La Fontaine’s cherished fables in the original French. Along with the fables are a brief life of Fontaine and a life of Aesop.

One of Edmund Dulac’s Most Splendid Creations
An Arabian Masterpiece - Sindbad the Sailor
Illustrated by the Artist with Exotic Charm and Grace

Dulac’s Poe - The Bells and Other Poems
In Original Cloth with Handsome Gilt Decorations
First Edition - Published by Hodder and Stoughton

$1,650.
With gilt decorated endleaves. A pleasing, bright, clean and handsome copy with only light age mellowing. The plates are especially bright with all captioned tissue guards present.

SCARCE AND BEAUTIFUL FIRST EDITION. “The Outlook” and “The Bookman” both commented that “the book thinking people will say with grace...sometimes Dulac’s pictures are deep-coloured and intense, sometimes dim and ghost-like. But one and all are sensitized to record impressions of unearthly beauty or horror. Only Poe could have written the poems. Only Dulac could have illustrated them.” Indeed, Dulac brings Poe’s genius to life with his worlds of swirling furies, forlorn moonlit maidens, and eerie fairy castles that seem to stumble away from reality into the edge of dream—or nightmare. One of Dulac’s most evocative creations.

Happy England - With 81 Paintings by Helen Allingham
Beautifully Reproduced On Fine Colourplates

22 [England] Allingham, Helen and Huish, Marcus B. HAPPY ENGLAND As Painted by Helen Allingham With a Memoir and Descriptions by Marcus B. Huish (London: Adam and Charles Black, 1909) First Edition of the reissued larger size printing. With 80 beautifully produced colour plates from Helen Allingham paintings, each with a captioned tissue guard and a portrait of the artist from a black and white photo with facsimile signature. 8vo, bound in the original maroon cloth, the upper cover and spine gilt lettered and decorated in a lovely English rose motif in green and pink. xi, 204 pp, 8 ads, pp. A very attractive copy, with a bit of mellowing to the spine panel, but the gilt very bright and fine, internally fine and fresh.

FIRST EDITION IN THE LARGER SIZE, OF THIS CHARMING WORK. The artist, who previously worked under the name Helen Mary Elizabeth Paterson,began painting in watercolours the beautiful English countryside after retiring from a career illustrating periodicals. She particularly loved painting the picturesque farmhouses and cottages of Surrey and Sussex for which she became famous. She specialized also in the rural scenes of other parts of the country – Middlesex, Kent, the Isle of Wight and the West Country – and abroad in Venice, Italy. It is notable that other then a handful of paintings of Venice, she never painted outside of England. Her paintings of many years were collected in this volume, appropriately named HAPPY ENGLAND.

While Vincent Van Gogh was developing as an artist and studying English illustrated journals he was struck very positively by her artistic work published in 'The Graphic'.

The Woodcutter’s Dog Translated From the French
With Beautiful Artwork by Claud Lovat Fraser

25 [Fraser, Illus.] Nodier, Charles. THE WOODCUTTER’S DOG. Translated from the French (London: Daniel O’connor, 1922) Second printing, one month after the first. The preferred Curwen Press issue. Illustrated and decorated in colour throughout by Claud Lovat Fraser. 8vo, publisher’s original yellow and white art-paper covered boards with cream paper label on upper cover printed in black and red. 18. A near fine copy of a delicate publication with only minor wear to the paper spine and edges and a touch of light spotting to the prelims.

“Charles Nodier’s fascinating story LE CHIEN DE BRISQUET, which has enthralled generations of French children, is now introduced to English children of the present day, with a few delightful illustrations by that exquisite artist, the late Claud Lovat Fraser.”

In his short career, he died at the age of thirty-one, Claud Lovat Fraser made a considerable impact on the world of art. In the words of John Drinkwater, “Beauty of spirit flowed in everything he did into beauty of execution.” His illustrations to this delightful yet sad tale of a heroic and loyal dog are lasting proof of Drinkwater’s statement.

Kate Greenaway’s Illustrated Mother Goose Nursery Rhymes
A True and Beloved Classic of Children’s Literature

[Image]

26 [Greenaway, Kate]. MOTHER GOOSE or the Old Nursery Rhymes (London and New York: Frederick Warne and Co. Ltd, nd) A circa. 1940’s printing of this classic, illustrated by Kate Greenaway. Engraved pictorially illustrated copyright page, half-title, title-page and colophon leaf in colours and 47 other fine illustrations in colour with rhymes on every page by Kate Greenaway. 12mo, publisher’s original pictorial boards backed in green cloth, the covers with “Mother Goose” printed in black within a frame with climbing roses on a green lattice trellis and an illustration of Mother Goose in colours, pictorially decorated endpapers. Dustjacket decorated similarly. 48 pp. An unusually well preserved copy of a book typically found much abused or well-used. The binding and cloth in very fine condition, the dustjacket with only very light edgewear and a bit of mellowing due to age.

ONE OF THE MOST BELOVED VERSIONS OF MOTHER GOOSE PRINTED TO THIS DAY, Kate Greenaway’s fanciful delights brighten each page with full colour illustrations and other merrymaking decorations thrill throughout. By nature, books for such early readers are typically found in dismal condition, but this copy has completely escaped the various forms of havoc commonly caused by little hands. Truly a classic of juvenile literature.

The legend of Mother Goose is one of the most enduring in the history of children’s literature. She makes her first published appearance in 1697 in Charles Perrault’s CONTES DE MA MERE L’OYE (The Tales of Mother Goose) but it is believed that origins can be traced to a “period of remote antiquity in Italy”. (Harvey 538) $75.

“Nothing so Graceful & Pleasant Has Appeared for a Long Time”

28 Howells, William Dean. THEIR WEDDING JOURNEY (Boston: Houghton, Mifflin and Company, 1895) The Very Handsome Riverside Press Illustrated edition. With numerous engraved illustrations all throughout by Clifford Carleton. 8vo, original sage cloth, with lovely decoration and lettering in gilt on both the upper cover and the spine, t.e.g., in the very scarce original brown cloth dustwrapper gilt lettered within a decorative coronet on the spine. vii, 399pp. A fine and attractive copy, with just some very minor age mellowing, the jacket is fine as well though the rear of which has a little spotting to the paper backing.

A BEAUTIFUL COPY, VERY SCARCE TO FIND IN THE ORIGINAL DUSTJACKET. “The Dean of American Letters” first successful novel is of interest not only because it remains a gently humorous book of American manners, but (617) 536-4433 - 13 - info@buddenbrooks.com because one can see how he first tried to move from the romanticism of his early Heine-like poems, to the realism of his later novels. Many also consider THEIR WEDDING JOURNEY to also be more of a travelogue or series of sketches than a true novel in format. The story follows Basil and Isabel March on their honeymoon journey. They travel from Boston to New York and up the Hudson River and west to Rochester and Niagara Falls, and along to the Thousand Islands, Montreal and Quebec and south, home to Boston. Along their way they travel by carriage and train and boat. Howells dominated American literature between the Civil War and the Great War. He was the man most responsible for what came to be known as Literary Realism, which was a reaction to the Romantics.

John G. Whittier wrote of THEIR WEDDING JOURNEY; “Nothing so graceful and pleasant has appeared for a long time.” A Harper’s reviewer commented, “the charm of Mr. Howells’s style prevents his book from being in any sense commonplace, and we read it with wonder at the eyes which see so much to entertain and amuse where ordinary eyes see little or nothing.” Worcester State University; Centervilles.

Hogarth Illustrated - 1791
Featuring Ninety-Two Plates of the Artist’s Works

29 Ireland, John. HOGARTH ILLUSTRATED. (London,: [J.& J. Boydell], 1791) 2 volumes. First Edition. Collates complete with 92 plates by Hogarth, and with anecdotal descriptions of his pictures by Ireland. 8vo, recent calf back marble boards. Some intermittent spotting and stains, but a very nice copy in attractive binding.

AN EXCELLENT WORK ON WILLIAM HOGARTH, FEATURING MANY PLATES. William Hogarth’s popular engravings are here provided with “a moral and analytical description,” with a “description of what I conceive the comic and moral tendencies of each.”

The most considerable English figure in book illustration of the early eighteenth century, Hogarth (1697-1764) was trained as a silversmith’s engraver, but found his niche as a maker of prints aimed at the common man. His series of engravings, such as “The Harlot’s Progress,” “Marriage a la Mode,” and “The Analysis of Beauty,” were immensely popular in his lifetime and immediately inspired numerous plays and novels, and they continued to be reprinted for many years. As Lamb said of him, “Other pictures we look at--his prints we read.”

Illustrated by Jessie Willcox Smith and John Luther Long

30 [Jessie Willcox Smith, Illus.] Long, John Luther. BILLY-BOY. A Study in Responsibilities. (New York: Dodd, Mead & Company, 1906) First edition with the illustrations. With 4 full page illustrations, one in colour by Jessie Willcox Smith and decorations by Robert McQuinn. 8vo, publisher’s original dark blue cloth lettered in gilt on the spine and upper cover and with a colour pictorial paste down surrounded by 4 seagulls in white, from a painting by Jessie Willcox Smith on the upper cover. 74 pp. A very fine copy with the cover gilt decorations quite bright. The interior is well-preserved, tight and clean.

FIRST EDITION WITH THE HEART-FELT ILLUSTRATIONS BY JESSIE WILLCOX SMITH AND SUBTLE PALE BLUE DECORATIONS THROUGHOUT BY ROBERT MCQUIN. A moral tale of father and son with a spiritual message by the author of Madame Butterfly and The Darling of the Gods.

31 [Jessie Willcox Smith, Illus.] MacDonald, George. AT THE BACK OF THE NORTH WIND (Philadelphia: David McKay, Publishers, 1919) First edition with these illustrations. With 8 full page color plates by Jessie Willcox Smith. 8vo, original beige cloth with a pictorial paste-down on upper cover, framed in gilt, and with gilt lettering on spine and upper cover, with pictorial endpapers. 342. A very good and honest copy, solid and internally very clean with fine bright plates, the binding a little shaken and mellowed or aged primarily at the spine panel, but well preserved and a pleasing survival.

FIRST EDITION. MacDonald’s signature vivid and dreamlike prose was a perfect inspiration for Jessie Willcox Smith. Her work here, filled with depth and grandeur, ranks among her best.

AN IMPORTANT WORK OF CHILDREN’S LITERATURE. MacDonald touches on many theological and philosophical questions, especially concerning theodicy. It is considered one of his masterpieces. NORTH WIND is a fantasy centered on a boy named Diamond and his adventures with the North Wind. Diamond travels together with the mysterious Lady North Wind through the nights. There are many similarities between Diamond and MacDonald’s own son Maurice, who died young. Diamond also seems to represent Christ, always trying to help others while not completely belonging to this world.

The Princess and the Goblin
Jesse Willcox Smith Illustrates MacDonald’s Classic Tale

32 [Jessie Willcox Smith, Illus.] MacDonald, George. THE PRINCESS AND THE GOBLIN (Philadelphia: David McKay, Publishers, 1920) Scarce first edition with Jessie Willcox Smith’s illustrations. With a whimsically decorated title-page and eight colour plates by Jessie Willcox Smith. 8vo, publisher’s original beige cloth with a pictorial paste-down on the upper cover, framed in gilt and blue with blue lettering, and with gilt lettering to the spine, pictorially decorated endpapers. 203. A very nice copy, internally very clean and fresh, quite fine, the textblock and binding all firm and strong, the cloth just a bit mellowed by time, a little more so to the spine panel, but still an attractive copy.

FIRST EDITION WITH THESE ILLUSTRATIONS. A WONDERFULLY ILLUSTRATED WORK BY JESSIE WILLCOX SMITH, and it is little wonder Scottish author George MacDonald is best remembered for his children’s stories. Having eleven children of his own no doubt gave MacDonald a great deal of practice with this sort of thing. PRINCESS AND THE GOBLIN is his best known work other then AT THE BACK OF THE NORTH WIND.

Anne Thaxter Eaton writes in ‘A Critical History of Children’s Literature’ that The Princess and the Goblin “quietly suggest in every incident ideas of courage and honor.”

A Superb Copy - Herman Melville’s Greatest Work
The Limited Three Volume Lakeside Press Moby Dick Designed and Illustrated By Rockwell Kent

34  [Kent, illus.]  Melville, Herman. MOBY DICK, or The Whale  (Chicago: The Lakeside Press, 1930) 3 volumes. First edition, special issue, limited to 1000 copies only. Beautifully designed and illustrated by Rockwell Kent throughout, with 280 woodcut illustrations by the artist. 4to, publisher’s original full black cloth lettered and decorated in silver after Kent’s designs on spines and upper covers. Each volume also includes its rarely seen original dustjacket of cello with paper turnovers. This set in the publisher’s specially made aluminum slipcase which still houses the books very protectively. xxvii, 279; vi, 284; vii, 282 pp. With 280 woodcut illustrations by Rockwell Kent  An especially fine and handsome set, one of the best we’ve seen, the spines still extremely bright and clean, the original cello dustjackets still whole and well preserved, A largely unopened set, as pristine.

FIRST OF THE EDITION AND A SUPERB SET OF THIS AMERICAN ARTISTIC AND LITERARY MASTERPICE. This wonderfully rendered Moby Dick, perhaps the most famous illustrated edition, was wholly designed by Rockwell Kent under the supervision of William A. Kitteredge. This limited edition, has become highly desirable to collectors as it represents one of the great American illustrated books of the twentieth century.

“As Queequeg and I are now fairly embarked in this business of whaling,” Melville’s narrator begins, “and as this business of whaling has somehow come to be regarded among landsmen as a rather unpoeetical and disreputable pursuit; therefore, I am all anxiety to convince ye, ye landsmen, of the injustice hereby done to us hunters of whales.” Melville points out the historical accomplishments of whalers (“Often, adventures which Vancouver dedicates three chapters to, these men accounted unworthy of being set down in the ship’s common log”) and the traditional homage paid to whales (“In one of the mighty triumphs given to a Roman general upon his entering the world’s capital, the bones of a whale, brought all the way from the Syrian Coast, were the most conspicuous object in the cymballed procession”), and in general does a fine job of vindicating his profession.

“Oh, the rare old Whale, mid storm and gale
In his ocean home will be
A giant in might, where might is right,
And king of the boundless sea.”

Rockwell Kent’s vivid and artistic illustrations make this one of the most attractive editions of Melville’s classic American novel. The end-product speaks for itself and this truly handsome book has become a classic in its own right. Fantastically rendered, it ranks among the finest of illustrated novels.

A Rare Rockwell Kent Illustrated Work
In the Preferred First Printing With Additional Poems

Burke was the pseudonym for Ralph Pulitzer, heir of the famed newspaper publisher, who served for many years as the president of the Press Publishing Company, which published the New York World and the Evening World.  This is copy number 40 and thus being one of the first 100 copies.  They contained three poems which, due to Ralph Pulitzer’s instructions, did not appear in the second 100 copies.  For this same reason they also have three extra illustrations.

First Edition Signed by the Author and Illustrator
Juna’s Journey - Kherdian and Hogrogran

SIGNED FIRST EDITION.  “In a time and land not so different from ours, lives a one called Juna, a dream helper who has spent much of his life dreaming for others.  He has never dreamed for himself, until one evening when he has a dream of his own, which contains a mysterious message just for him.  To learn the secret of it, it is clear he must go on a journey.

David Kherdian and Nonny Hogrogian have joined talents here to create a mystical modern-day fable.  Kherdian’s artfully woven text and Hogrogian’s enchanting illustrations capture the awe and wonder of Juna’s journey, as he and his companions move toward the light of self-discovery and the ultimate message of Juna’s dream.”

Of Human Bondage
With Sixteen Fine John Sloan Etchings

SOMERSET MAUGHAM’S BEST KNOWN NOVEL AND ONE OF THE MOST DESIRABLE AND APPEALING BOOKS OF THE LIMITED EDITIONS CLUB.  These volumes were printed for the Club at the Yale University Press under the supervision Carl Purington Rollins.  John Sloan’s etched illustrations are a striking addition to Maugham’s thinly disguised autobiography.  OF HUMAN BONDAGE describes Philip Carey’s lonely boyhood in Whitstable (which becomes Blackstable, as Canterbury becomes Tercanbury) and his subsequent adventures.  Carey is handicapped by a club foot, much as Maugham was handicapped by a severe stammer.

39 [Mississippi]; Petersen, William J.  STEAMBOATING ON THE UPPER MISSISSIPPI (Iowa City: State Historical Society of Iowa, 1968) Presentation Copy and the First printing of this Edition, supervised by the author, and with additions not included in the original first issuance. The autograph presentation signed in full from Petersen to James O. Freedman who had just become President of Iowa State University and who went on to become President of Dartmouth College. With 64 illustrations on full-page plates and within the text, illustrated and decorated endleaves showing the course of the great river, its locks and the steamboats and cargoes that traveled along it as well as the railroad building that came to its ports. Thick 8vo, publisher’s original forest green cloth, the upper cover and spine lettered and decorated in gilt, housed in the original light green printed dustjacket. 575, [1] pp. A very fine copy, as pristine, in a fine and very well preserved dustjacket.

PRESENTATION COPY OF THIS FIRST EDITION ISSUED BY THE STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY OF IOWA.

The history of the steamboat is a romantic one on the Mississippi river. This is a massive, richly documented history of Mississippi steamboating from the voyage of the Virginia in 1823 to about 1870. It includes experiments of Robert Fulton, steamboats as cargo carriers, steamboats in Indian affairs, during the Civil War, much more. (Howes P2263 for the first) $100.

Figures De L’Histoire De France
167 Very Fine and Detailed Engravings
Moreau le Jeune, Monnet and Lepicier - 1785 - Paris

40 Moreau le Jeune [Moreau, the Younger]; French Engraving and Printing. Figures de l’ Histoire de France ([Paris]: Renouard, n.d. [1785]) This copy with the engraved bookplate of Percy Hamilton Clark, perhaps the most famous American cricketer of all time, who in 1903 ushered in what has been called the “Golden Age” of cricket in the U.S.A. 167 engraved plates, 154 of which are numbered and 13 unnumbered, by Moreau the Younger, Monnet and Lepicier depicting the history of France and including frameworks for descriptive text of Monsieur l’Abbe’ Garnier. Large 8vo, (29 by 20.5 cm), in handsome antique three-quarter red morocco over marbled boards, the spine ornately gilt lettered and decorated. 167 leaves, printed on one side only. A very pleasing copy, internally very fine and fresh, the binding with some light, expected evidence of age.

(617) 536-4433 - info@buddenbrooks.com
A VERY BEAUTIFULLY PRODUCED WORK. This impressive suite of engravings depict the history of France from the inauguration of Pharamond (circa 428) to the year 1314. Moreau had intended to carry on with the engraving work and bring the book up to his own time, but the project was unfortunately never completed.

Morocco - An Especially Scarce A. & C. Black Title
The Limited De Luxe Issue Numbered and Signed
A Fine Copy - 74 Striking Colourplates by A. S. Forrest

41 [Morocco; Illustrated Travel]; Forrest, A. S. (illus), Bensusan, S. L. (text). MOROCCO (London: Adam & Charles Black, 1904) First edition, and the EDITION DE LUXE, LARGE PAPER, LIMITED to only 250 numbered copies and SIGNED by the publishers, A. & C. Black. 74 beautifully reproduced colour plates from paintings by A. S. Forrest, each with a captioned tissue guard. 4to, publisher’s original white cloth, lettered in gilt and elaborately decorated with all-over pictorial designs in a Moroccan motif in red, blue and green on both the upper cover and the spine. xv, 230pp. A beautiful copy of the fine De Luxe issue, the exterior uncommonly fresh and bright, especially so for white cloth, only very minor age evident, internally fine and fresh, the hinges strong and the plates and text bright and pristine, a touch of spotting to the prelims and tissue guards only.

A VERY FINE COPY OF THIS VIBRANTLY ILLUSTRATED FIRST EDITION IN ITS FINEST AND MOST DE LUXE LARGE PAPER FORMAT. This issue stands a full two inches taller than its trade counterpart and the white cloth is far more attractive. In either issue this is one of the most difficult titles to obtain of A. & C. Black’s beautifully illustrated and decorated travel books.

The seventy-four fine colour illustrations seem to leap off of their bright white glossy plates. Vivid and bright in both colour and subject the plates are reproduced from oils and watercolours by well-known landscape and figure painter Archibald Stevenson Forrest. Forrest studied at Westminster School of Art, at the City and Guilds College, and at Edinburgh Art School. And while he was exhibited at the principal London galleries, including the Royal Society of British Artists, is best known for his work in these series of books on foreign lands.

The Wonderful Fairy Tales of Hans Andersen
Made all the More Magical by Artist Key Nielsen
A Very Fine Copy of the Beautiful Quarto Printing

42 [Nielsen, illus.] Andersen, Hans. FAIRY TALES by Hans Andersen (New York: George H. Doran, [1924]) First American edition. With 12 very fine tipped-in color plates, numerous black & white illustrations as frontispieces to each tale and additional decoration throughout all by Kay Nielsen. 4to, in the original black cloth featuring a black, metallic silver, and orange pictorial pastedown on the upper cover, the spine lettered and decorated in silver, with decorative endpapers. 280pp. A very fine copy, internally as pristine and perfect as new, the cloth very bright and fresh with no fading or wear, the upper pastedown pristine, the silver lettering and decorations on the spine with some flaking as is unfortunately the norm.

FIRST EDITION OF THE QUARTO PRINTING. This collection of sixteen tales was initiated by Nielsen in 1912, though it was not published until 1924. Andersen’s beloved tales were an excellent inspiration for Nielsen who produced some of his finest images for this title. Sixteen of Andersen’s tales are included. Interestingly, ‘The Little Mermaid’ is not included among them. In 1937 Nielsen went to work for Walt Disney. He was renowned at the Disney studio for his concept art, and he contributed artwork for many Disney films. Around 1940 he produced concept paintings for a proposed adaptation of Hans Christian Andersen’s ‘The Little Mermaid’. The film, however, was not made within Nielsen’s lifetime. The paintings however would remain with the studio for over 40 years and did not go unused, they provided much of the look and style of Disney’s 1989 film. That film is given credit for breathing life back into the art of animated feature films and remains one of the studios most popular features to date.

(47) pp. A very beautiful copy of this lavish book, the best we have ever offered, especially fine and essentially pristine and near mint.

A SUPERIOR COPY OF THE FIRST EDITION OF THIS BRILLIANT ILLUSTRATED BOOK. THIS IS THE BEST COPY OF THE BOOK THAT WE HAVE EVER BEEN ABLE TO OFFER. Perhaps Parrish’s best work, and certainly a very scarce book in nice condition. As Parrish himself said, “The reason I wanted to illustrate THE KNAVE OF HEARTS was on account of the bully opportunity it gives for a very good time making the pictures. Imagination could run riot, bound down by no period, just good fun and all sorts of things.” Quoted in Ludwig, p. 48.

For sixty-five years Parrish worked in widely varied fields--book illustration, magazine illustration, posters and advertisements, paintings and murals---rendering realm of the imagination with sharp-focus realism. So well known and popular was his work F. Scott Fitzgerald, for example, described the reflection in a restaurant window as being the color of ‘Maxfield Parrish moonlight.’

The Book of Pirates Illustrated by Howard Pyle

First Edition and a Wonderfully Fine Copy

This is an especially bright and clean copy of this wonderful book, one of Pyle’s best and most popular works.

“Why is it that the pirate has, and always has had, a certain lurid glamour of the heroical enveloping him round about?  Is there, deep under the accumulated debris of culture, a hidden groundwork of the old-time savage?  Is there even in these well-regulated times an unsubdued nature in the respectable mental household of every one of us that still kicks against the pricks of law and order?  To make my meaning more clear, would not every boy, for instance—that is, every boy of any account—rather be a pirate captain than a Member of Parliament?” (- from the Introduction). $650.
54 Quasimodo, Salvatore. LE LETTERE D’AMORE DI QUASIMODO. (Milan: Edizioni Apollinaire, 1969) First Edition, one of 1000 copies only. Profusely illustrated, with letters in reproduction by this Nobel Prize winner. 75 photographs and 40 love letters written to the dancer Maria Cumani. Folio, publisher’s original stiff printed wrappers, lettered in black on the upper cover and spine, and housed in the original slipcase. [228] pp. A fine copy in the original slipcase, a bit of light wear.

FIRST EDITION. BEAUTIFULLY PRINTED IN MILAN, ITALY. With 75 photographs and reproductions of 40 love letters written to the dancer Maria Cumani in the 1930’s.

‘Traditional literary critique divides Quasimodo’s work into two major periods: the hermetic period until World War II and the post-hermetic era until his death. Although these periods are distinct, they are to be seen as a single poetical quest. This quest or exploration for a unique language took him through various stages and various modalities of expression.

As an intelligent and clever poet, Quasimodo used a hermetical, “closed” language to sketch recurring motifs like Sicily, religion and death. Subsequently, the translation of authors from Roman and Greek Antiquity enabled him to extend his linguistic toolkit. The disgust and sense of absurdity of World War II also had its impact on the poet’s language. This bitterness, however, faded in his late writings, and was replaced by the mature voice of an old poet reflecting upon his world.

In the 1950s Quasimodo won the following awards: Premio San Babila (1950), Premio Etna-Taormina (1953), Premio Viareggio (1958) and, finally, the Nobel Prize for Literature (1959). In 1960 and 1967 he received honoris causa degrees from the Universities of Messina and Oxford, respectively.

In his last years the poet made numerous voyages to Europe and America, giving public speeches and public lectures of his poems, which had been translated in several foreign languages.

FIRST EDITION OF THIS SCARCE LIMITED, SIGNED AND NUMBERED ARTHUR RACKHAM ILLUSTRATED WORK. A collection of fairy tales from the allied countries of WWI including stories from the English, Scotch, Welsh, Irish, Serbian, and many more. “His book for 1916, THE ALLIES’ FAIRY BOOK, published by Heinemann as a contribution to the mood of patriotism and co-operation between the Allies, is likewise composed of images that thrill and inspire, but do not terrify. Where in GRIMM Rackham happily includes illustrations of people battering each other to death or hanging by the hair and caught in brambles alive or half dead, this kind of image is not dwelt upon in THE ALLIES’ FAIRY BOOK.... Reports coming back from the Front, eye-witness accounts of devastation, violation, and butchery, were quite enough to suggest to Rackham and his publishers that at this time the Allies could be spared violent images with their family reading at home.” - Hamilton. $2250.
Arthur Rackham’s Rip Van Winkle
First Edition - With 50 Beautiful Coloured Plates

56 [Rackham, Arthur, Illus.] Irving, Washington. RIP VAN WINKLE (London [and] New York: William Heinemann for Doubleday, Page, 1905) First Edition. Illustrated with 50 colour plates by Arthur Rackham. 4to, bound in the publisher’s original olive green cloth, lettered in gilt on the spine and lettered and pictorially illustrated in gilt on the upper cover, t.e.g. viii, 57, 50 full-page colour illustrated plates on glossy paper. A fine and very handsome copy, uncommonly clean, fresh and bright. The green cloth is beautifully preserved, bright and clean, the gilt likewise. An excellent copy with just an occasional bit of the usual foxing to the text-block and end-leaves.

SCARCE FIRST EDITION, WITH THE 50 HIGHLY IMPRESSIVE COLOUR PLATES BY ARTHUR RACKHAM.
Rackham’s RIP VAN WINKLE was issued in 1905 to great critical acclaim. Many compared his style to the German illustrators and The Times called it a “marvel of his Dureresque detail.” This copy contains the full aggregate of illustrations. The story is essentially told twice, first in Irving’s five thousand words, and then in Rackham’s 50 evocative illustrations. “Interspersed with the genre scenes of village life are the imaginative subjects such as little mountain men, ghosts, and the squaw spirit ‘who hung up the new moons in the skies and cut up the old ones into stars.’ “It was subjects such as these which were to run away with Rackham’s reputation, and influence our perception of his genius for lively human characterization.”-J. Hamilton

Derek Hudson also has some fine words for this work: “This lovely book decisively established Rackham as the leading decorative illustrator of the Edwardian period. One does not know which to admire most—the superb artistry of his landscapes, the poetry of the scenes of Rip by the riverside, the charm of his children and fairies, or the grotesque groups of Henrick Hudson and his crew which so long anticipated the art of Walt Disney” (Hudson, p. 57). Rackham’s success with RIP VAN WINKLE led to his collaboration with J. M. Barrie on PETER PAN, perhaps his greatest work.

A shockingly brilliant copy.

A NEAR AS MINT, TRULY EXCEPTIONAL AND STUNNINGLY BEAUTIFUL COPY OF THE SCARCE SIGNED LIMITED FIRST EDITION, this being one of the copies reserved for sale in Great Britain. This fine deluxe issue included one additional colourplate not included in the trade issues.

Rackham has created a very special printing of Jonathan Swift’s 18th century satire. In 1899 an edition of this book had been issued with Rackham’s early drawings and no colour plates. As his reputation grew, the publisher asked for additional drawings and paintings and issued this new version. Rackham created a fresh set of illusttrations which employed high-contrast linear designs tinged with washes of subtle color. The result was a collection of powerful images with striking emotional contrasts, well-suited to the spectacular travels of Gulliver. Rackham was able to graphically depict Gulliver kneeling on the floor with the Lilliputian tailors gazing up at him while measuring him for a new suit. And in his painting, ‘Gulliver’s Combat With The Wasps’, he dramatically portrays a handful of huge wasps swarming menacingly around Gulliver’s teetering form. The trials, tribulations, and exploits of Gulliver’s travels are magnificently portrayed here by the master illustrator.

With the Very Beautiful Illustrations of W. Heath Robinson
First Edition - Rudyard Kipling - A Song of the English

59 [Robinson, W. Heath, illus.]; Kipling, Rudyard. A SONG OF THE ENGLISH (London: Hodder and Stoughton, [1909]) First edition. With 30 color plates tipped-in within ornamental borders, and with black and white drawings on almost every page, all by W. Heath Robinson. Large 4to, original royal blue cloth lettered and elaborately decorated in gilt with fine pictorial designs on the upper cover and spine. A fine and very bright, beautifully preserved copy of this lovely book, the textblock clean and the plates all pristine, the cloth and gilt in excellent condition.

FIRST EDITION OF THIS VERY BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED WORK BY RUDYARD KIPLING. THE W. HEATH ROBINSON ILLUSTRATIONS ARE SUPERB BY ANY MEASURE. The trade edition of this volume was issued to benefit the “Daily Telegraph” National Bands Fund, and includes the text of a speech given by Kipling on the subject: “From the lowest point of view, a few drums and fifes in a battalion are worth five extra miles on a route march....” Robinson’s highly sensuous illustrations perfectly complement Kipling’s poems of British seafaring around the world. The grand poem, SONG OF THE ENGLISH is followed by six subsidiary poems likely composed while the Kiplings were living in Vermont. The theme underlying much of this collection is that the English are the Chosen under the Lord. This is one of Kipling’s earliest verses specifically setting out his vision of the British Empire, and the duties which it imposes on the English people. His definition of ‘the English’ is wide, certainly embracing the people of the overseas Empire, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, South Africa, but arguably also the Americans among whom he lived in the years working on the collection.

Isaac Bashevis Singer - Stories For Children
First Edition - A Fine Copy in the Original Dustjacket

FIRST EDITION, with several stories about Hanukkah. “This volume presents the lion’s share of the children’s stories Isaac Bashevis Singer has written to date, along with a brief introduction and an epilogue. Most have been translated from the Yiddish. Singer’s stature as a teller of exuberant and timeless tales for children which are rich in fantasy but also deeply rooted in the lost cultural tradition of his native Poland is perhaps unsurpassed.” Several of the stories are tales about Hanukkah.
